Police 'Army' Quells Throng At Corte Madera Rec Center

HANDWRITING ON WALL — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, never beaten Republican from Maine, formally announced her candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination today. She points to a notice left by an unidentified backer on wall of Mayflower Hotel, Washington, D.C., saying: "Barry stews, Rocky Pursues, (Dicky Brews), but Margaret Chase Smith Wows and Woos with Blueberry muffins. Johnson Is Ducking Queries On Baker, Republicans Assert

Full Public Exposure Asked About President's Ex-Right-Hand Man

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Republicans accused President Lyndon B. Johnson today of "running away" from questions on the Bobby Baker affair. They served notice they will keep the issue hot until the November election.

In a round robin colloquy on the House floor, they demanded full public exposure of the profitable outside business ventures of the former Senate Democratic secretary who was Johnson's right-hand man during the President's tenure as Senate majority leader.

They accused Johnson of having tried to pass off his part in the case with a quip. They said his explanation was not satisfactory and that they intend to keep hammering away for the answers "for the next 10 months, until we vote."

"Up to this point there has been no demonstration of the government relationships that gave Baker his power to land highly lucrative vending machine contracts in the aerospace and defense industries," said Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa), anchor man in the four-way exchange.

"He must have had powerful friends who were active and influential in defense and aerospace contract matters."

Gross noted that Johnson, in explaining the gift to him of a stereo set bought by insurance agent Don Reynolds after Reynolds wrote a policy on Johnson's life, has said he thought the set came from Baker, and that he and Baker often had exchanged gifts.

"I would like to hear more about these tokens of affection that were passing back and forth between the then majority leader and Bobby Baker," Gross said. "It could be most pertinent."

Baker Seeks To Limit His Testimony

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — "Bobby" Baker is trying to impose limitations on his testimony when he appears before the Senate Rules Committee investigating his financial and other activities.

Committee members are saying that attorneys for the one-time influential secretary of the Senate Democrats are proposing certain restrictions on his grilling. According to the committeemen, Baker's lawyers want to specify the subjects on which he is to be questioned.

Unless that is done, Baker might refuse to answer. Or as one committeeman expressed it, "Presumably, he would take the Fifth."

Republican senators are emphatically opposed to any restraints on the questioning of Baker when he appears before them. They insist on full and unhampered scope to grill him on anything. They point out that no other witnesses have sought or been given special treatment, and they are vehemently against any for Baker.

"If he wants to take the Fifth," said one prober, "that's his business."

Teen-Age Dance Is Jammed

The future of teen-age dances in the Corte Madera Recreation Center was in doubt today after a small army of Marin County law enforcement officers broke up a milling throng of youths outside the dance Saturday night.

Corte Madera police officer Charles Rester put out a general alarm for assistance at 10 p.m. "unless there had been extra units at the scene all control would have been lost," he said.

STATE PATROL ASSISTS

In response to Rester's call, units from the Larkspur, Mill Valley, San Anselmo and San Rafael police departments arrived on the scene, along with California Highway Patrol cars and four sheriff's office cars.

Rester responded to a call from dance promoter Edward S. Margoliash, 21, of Ross, who asked for help in controlling about 50 youths milling around outside the recreation center.

The youths had been turned away from the dance by Margoliash because he had a capacity crowd of 450, according to police.

FAINTING AND FIGHT

In the crowd pressing around the front door, Maria L. Conteras, 18, of 175 Oak Drive, San Rafael, fainted. She was taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment.

The surging crowd also broke a window in the front door before enough law enforcement officers arrived to take control. A fight was broken up inside the recreation center by a deputy sheriff, according to police.

Rester and two sheriff's deputies were called back to the scene at 11:30 p.m. when the

TAX GROUP HIRES FIRED FIRE AIDE

Offer To Act Without Charge Taken Up; To Seek Settlement In College Gym Blaze

The Marin County Taxpayers Assn. has taken up insurance adjuster John B. Lewellen's offer to act without charge in behalf of any Marin taxpayer in seeking a higher insurance settlement to Marin Junior College District for loss of the college gymnasium in a Dec. 16 fire.

Lewellen made the offer after the college district board, at a meeting last Thursday night, declared he had not been hired to investigate the loss and his services would not be used.

P. J. Rowland of Greenbrae, president of the taxpayers association, wrote Lewellen:

"In order to protect the members of this association, and the taxpayers of Marin County in general, we would like to ask that, purely as a public service, and without charge of any kind whatsoever against our association or its members . . . you would follow through on the matter of this loss settlement on the gymnasium of College of Marin."

SHOWS NOTE

Lewellen said he would do it.

Lewellen, who is a public insurance adjuster with an office in San Francisco, also exhibited a note from Norman Bird, college business manager, to LeRoy Construction Service of San Francisco, dated Jan. 16. It said:

"This will authorize you to prepare a quantitative survey in connection with gymnasium fire which occured Dec. 16, 1963, as directed by Mr. J. B. Lewellen."

Lewellen said this is evidence that he was hired by the college district to investigate the loss.

BOARD'S VIEW

Intention to hire him was announced after a closed session of the college district board on Jan. 14. After another closed session last Thursday night, with County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney present, the board declared it had not hired Lewellen and would not do so.

Lewellen claims a $134,318 fire loss settlement offered the district through its insurance agent, LeRoy F. Wilkie, is inadequate. He contends replacement cost is in the neighborhood of $300,000, and that in November, 1961, the building was valued for insurance purposes at $297,399.

Supervisors To Shun Some Jury Proposals

The Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow is expected to turn thumbs down, in effect, on four proposals of the 1963 County Grand Jury.

The Board and county officials are required to reply to Grand Jury recommendations within 30 days after the jury is dismissed.

County Administrator Alan Bruce has prepared a statement in behalf of the Board saying that it will not adopt the Citizens' Committee recommendation of new boundaries for supervisorial districts, saying the proposed changes "would produce little net gain toward the objective of equalization of population among districts."

The Board, if the proposed statement is approved, will also refuse the request to move the county library from the top to the second floor of the Civic Center.

"Increased circulation and visitor counts show conclusively that the public finds the present location accessible, as well as architecturally excellent and functional," Bruce's statement says.

Major rehabilitation of the drunk tank in the county jail is turned down, mainly because the entire jail is expected to be

Thick Fog Socks In Most Of Marin County

Thick fog this morning "grounded" most of Marin County, from Sausalito to Novato.

The air strip at Hamilton Air Force Base was reported open, but Marin County Airport in Novato "is definitely socked in," Mrs. Lorraine Tollefson reported just before noon. "Visability is less than half a mile. It's practically zero-zero, for ceiling and visability."

William Hardsaw, manager of Command Sea Plane Service, on Highway 101 near Richardson Bay Bridge, reported at 8 a.m. that "everything is fogged in. We have a 200-foot ceiling."

"Visability is limited," said Charles Frankel, owner of Commodore Helicopters Inc., at 9 a.m. Commodore is located on the same site as Command Sea Plane.

Frankel said, "We couldn't get across the Bay Bridge early today on the KGO radio traffic check, but did get across the Golden Gate Bridge. The fog is getting worse." He said helicopters were operating despite the low ceiling.

Sen. Margaret Smith Tosses Bonnet In Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, never beaten lady from Maine, tossed her bonnet into the presidential ring today.

In an appearance before the Women's national Press Club, the 66-year-old Republican, a one-time "Hello Girl" for the Skowhegan Telephone Co., nailed her "moderate Republican" colors to the mast.

In a suspenseful buildup to a not-so-surprising ending, she recited reasons she said had been given her why she should run and she should not.

"As gratifying as are the reasons for," she said, "I find the reasons against more telling."

She went on to mention "severe limitations," lack of money, organization and time. Also the heavy odds against her.

But she said, while the audience roared, she had taken these impelling reasons into account, and: "I have decided that I shall run."

Building Permits Hit Record For Sixth Year In Succession

Value of building permits in Marin County for 1963 reached a record $92,730,805, according to the Marin County Development Assn.

This was an increase of 30.7 per cent over 1962 and is sixth year in succession to establish a record.

The City of Corte Madera for December reported its all-time monthly high of $5,418,709, a tally 67 per cent above the previous March, 1958, high. Permits for 268 apartments provided most of the total.

A construction value total of $26,052,900 in San Rafael, however, led all other communities and areas in the county last year. The City of Novato was second, with $10,609,300. Added to the $9,641,000 recorded in Novato's contiguous unincorporated vicinity, this gave a total for the area of $20,,250,300.

Tiburon Peninsula was in third place with $6,990,500, followed by Corte Madera with $6,918,600.

A total of 4,591 dwelling units were permitted in 1963, a 21.1 per cent increase over 1962. Of these, 2,153 were single-family residences and 2,438, or 53.1 per cent, in multiple dwellings.

In 1962, the apartment portion of the dwelling unit total was slightly higher at 53.9 per cent. An $8,461,300 in new authorizations for commercial construction was a new high for that type—18.7 per cent better than the previous high of 1961.

ONE OF THOSE WEEKENDS...

Officer Bitten, Window Broken, Fire Set In City's Trash Can

It was one of those week ends in Sausalito.

A man built a fire in a trash can in front of the City Hall. Another elbowed one officer in the eye and bit another twice. A third man knicked in a "picture window."

Robin Hardin, who refused to give police further identification, was arrested by Officer Harvey Zion who found him walking in the 800 block of Bridgeway at 5:25 a.m. today with an uneasy gait. On being searched at the police station, Hardin reportedly hit Zion in the eye with his elbow.

When officers started to handcuff Hardin, he bit Sgt. Stanley Kelly once on each hand. He was booked on charges of disturbing the peace, assault, battery, drunkenness, and resisting arrest.

Yesterday at 2:45 a.m. Kelly saw contents of a trash can in front of the city hall ablaze. Kelly got a fire extinguisher and, on return, found a man pulling papers out of a newspaper rack and stacking them on the fire.

The man ran down the sidewalk. Kelly caught him. "I don't know anything about a fire. I was waiting for the bus. I didn't see any fire," said the man, who identified himself only as "Collins." He was arrested for malicious mischief and petty theft.

James Allison Knocks of 136 Lakeside Drive, Corte Madera, was arrested at 9 p.m. Saturday. An officer said Knocks, supported by two friends, paused as he walked by 11 Princess Street to kick out the display window of Fio Rita's a dress shop.

Tiburon Driver Killed In Crash

FAIRFIELD (UPI) — Bernard T. Bedilion, 48, Tiburon, was fatally injured today in a head-on automobile crash on State Route 12 four miles west of here.

Bedilion, a collector supervisor for the State Franchise Tax Board, was eastbound on the highway in a heavy fog when his car collided with two other cars, the California Highway Patrol said.

Clovis Westbrook, 62, Rio Vista, and his wife, Zella, 59, were injured. Also hurt was the third driver, Edward O'Connell, Solano County voting inspector.

More than 30,000 invitations have been sent out to registered Republicans in Marin County by co-hosts, State Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley. The reception is from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

The New York governor is seeking the Republican nomination for president.

After the reception, Governor Rockefeller will go back to San Francisco and entrain for Los Angeles.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

East African Rebels Questioned

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—British troops kept peace in restive East Africa today after disarming mutinous native soldiers in the young commonwealth nations of Kenya, Tanganyika and Uganda.

British and African officers questioned the rebellious troops in the three neighboring countries, trying to find out if there was a master plan behind the upheavals.

American Woman Slain In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Seven American refugees from Kwilu Province, where an American woman missionary was killed by a Congolese poison arrow, said today they escaped death because "the Lord kept his hand over us."

The first American known to be slain in the new outburst of terrorism was Irene Ferrel, 42, a member of the Baptist Mid-Missions. A co-worker, Ruthe Hege, 48, of Wellington, Ohio, reportedly had a hand hacked off by the terrorists and was in serious condition.

Memorial For Slain Oakland Pair

OAKLAND (AP) — The strangling of an Oakland mother and daughter indicates the need to help people with mental problems, a pastor has told friends of the slain pair.

In a memorial service yesterday, Dr. Hugh David Burcham, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Oakland, urged the mourners to pursue compassion, not vengeance.

More than 1,000 friends and fellow parishioners of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Martin and her daughter Carolyn, 18, filled the old grey church to overflowing.

Snakebite Kills Trainer

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Jerry De Bary, curator at the Salt Lake Zoo, died today from a bite of a deadly snake suffered Saturday night while cleaning the reptile's cage.

Adder

De Bary died as a plane carrying a vial of snakebite serum raced across the Atlantic in an attempt to save his life.

De Bary, head of Hogle Zoological Gardens, was struck by the fangs of a deadly puff adder as he cleaned the reptile's cage late Saturday night. He lived on a "touch-and-go basis" throughout yesterday.

De Bary

The snake's poison acts on the blood like the rattlesnake and also affects the nervous system, like a cobra. One fang of the puff adder hit De Bary in the left hand.

Mrs. De Bary said her husband told her before he lapsed into unconsciousness that he had opened the puff adder's cage to clean a window and "blacked out."

He apparently leaned his hand on the cage for support and the snake bit him.

Rights, Taxes Face Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House and Senate take it easy this week before tackling the two biggest bills of the congresssional session—civil rights and taxes.

The long-delayed civil rights bill is scheduled to reach the House floor Friday, but voting on amendments won't begin until next week.

In the Senate, the Finance Committee is hurrying its detailed report on the 11.5 billion dollar tax-cut bill in hopes of getting it to the floor by Friday.

Canal Talks Deadlock On Treaty Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States and Panama remained deadlocked today in their Canal Zone dispute but negotiators hoped for agreement that would permit resumption of diplomatic relations.

Negotiators for the two countries met for nearly four hours yesterday with the Inter-American Peace Committee and scheduled another session today.

The sticking point was Panama's insistence that the United States agree in advance that it would negotiate a new Canal Zone treaty before diplomatic relations are restored.

Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker of the United States and Miguel J. Moreno of Panama planned to consult again with their governments over the disputed text, it was understood.

The dispute centered over whether the United States had agreed to "negotiate" changes in the Canal Zone treaty or merely to "discuss" differences.

Only Saturday night the two countries were reported close to agreement on a formula to restore diplomatic relations, which Panama broke nine days ago, and start talks 15 days later on outstanding issues "without any limitations."

ACCRA, Ghana (UPI)—President Kwame Nkrumah emerged victorious today in the first stage of his drive to transform this West African republic into a one-party socialist state. The first phase voting in the Accra, northern and upper regions returned 457,292 votes in favor of constitutional changes and 1,175 negative votes.

Spy Satellites Detect Ballistic Missile Shots

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson disclosed today that two U.S. military spy-in-the-sky satellites have succeeded in detecting a number of intercontinental ballistic missiles launchings, both from Florida and from California.

The satellites successfully detected launchings not only of liquid fuel ICBMs—the huge Titan and Atlas boosters—but of the much more compact and swift-climbing, solid-fueled Minuteman ICBM, Johnson said.

Using secret infrared heat-seeking devices, the orbiting spy satellites sent into orbit in 1963 were able to detect ICBM launchings from Cape Kennedy, Fla., and Vandenberg Air Force Base.

Gov. Brown Cuts $80 Million From State Agency Spending

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown, promising to send the legislature "a sound budget and a frugal one," said today he has cut 80 million dollars from spending requests of state agencies.

The governor, winding up a 10-day working vacation at Palm Springs, repeated his pledge that his 1964-65 budget will be balanced without new taxes.

He invited the legislature, which convenes a week from today for an election-year budget session, to make any further reductions "consistent with present level of services to the people."

Several major questions still were unanswered:

Whether the partisan strife that plunged the 1963 legislature into repeated deadlocks will break out again in the Assembly.

What subjects the governor will open for action in his call for a special session to run concurrently with the 30-day budget session.

Brown said in a press statement that he got requests for 92 million dollars in new programs but eliminated all but 12 million dollars.

At that, the spending program for the year starting July 1 is expected to rise from the current 3.25 billion dollars to about 3.5 billion dollars.

The deleted requests," Brown said, "were justifiable in terms of program and policy, but had to yield to higher priority items at this time.

Brown gave no further word on what subjects he'll submit to the special session. He already has announced he'll seek action on housing for low-income groups and countywide equalization of school taxes. He has indicated, too, that he'll ask the lawmakers to place on the ballot bond issues for school building and state construction totaling about 600 million dollars.

McNamara Says Reds Gaining In S. Vietnam

Tells House Group U.S. Must Maintain Military Forces

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara grimly reported to Congress today that the anti-Communist cause in the war in South Vietnam has deteriorated since the overthrow of the Diem government in November.

The Communists have made "considerable progress," he said.

The Pentagon chief said the United States must continue to maintain powerful military forces and demonstrate willingness to risk their use despite improved world prospects for peace.

BEYOND IDEOLOGY

Appearing before the House Armed Services Committee, he said the Russian-Chinese dispute has gone beyond ideology to involve vital Soviet-Chinese interests. But he said this may only increase U.S. difficulties around the world.

McNamara's statements were contained in a 171-page "posture" statement submitted to the committee in support of President Lyndon B. Johnson's military spending requests for the new fiscal year beginning July 1. Johnson wants 51.2 billion dollars compared with 52.3 billion dollars in the current 12 months.

Referring to South Vietnam, McNamara said "the situation there remains grave . . . I must report that they (the Communists) have made considerable progress since the coup."

While emphasizing that "this is a Vietnamese war, and in the final analysis it must be fought and won by the Vietnamese," McNamara expressed hope that the increased popular support of the new government will soon begin to have an effect.

"However," he said, "the survival of an independent government in South Vietnam is so important to the security of all Southeast Asia and to the free world that I can conceive of no alternative other than to take all necessary measures within our capability to prevent a Communist victory."

Two Die In Air-Tight Cabin

BIG BEAR CITY (AP)—An 81-year-old woman and her 17-year-granddaughter are dead after being asphyxiated by smoke in a mountain cabin.

Sheriff's deputies said Lorraine Gaertner, a high school honor student, and Mrs. Zella Mae Leacock succumbed Saturday after inhaling smoke from clothing ignited by an electric heater.

Deputies said all the windows in the cabin were shut tight against the mountain air.

A neighbor discovered the bodies in the smoke-filled cabin.

FRANCE RECOGNIZES COMMUNIST CHINA

De Gaulle Defies Protests By U.S., Other Allies; French Power Bid Seen

COMBINED UPI AND AP

Paris — France today announced recognition of Communist China in defiance of sharp protests by the United States and other Allies.

President Charles de Gaulle's move was expected to touch of a chain reaction of recognition of the Peking regime by other countries.

A terse joint communique released simultaneously in Paris and Peking said France and Red China would appoint ambassadors within three months.

FRENCH POWER BID

France's recognition of Peking, long predicted, was in line with de Gaulle's program to re-fashion his country as a world power, and increase French influence in Southeast Asia where the Paris government has been urging a policy of neutralization in such trouble spots as Vietnam.

French government sources said de Gaulle hoped the recognition would bring a massive surge in trade between France and Red China.

There are other reason's for France's move.

DISLIKES AID TO RUSS

De Gaulle is dubious about what he considers American aid to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in his feud with the Red Chinese government. Informants say de Gaulle believes that giving Peking a little leeway may help keep the Chinese-Soviet dispute going.

French government sources said de Gaulle originally planned to broaden France's cultural ties with Peking, then began moving toward formal recognition.

Moscow Radio said France's diplomatic recognition of China "has been received with satisfaction in the Soviet Union."

Official sources at Taipei, said Nationalist China will break diplomatic relations with France because of its recognition of Communist China.

No statement was issued by the foreign ministry, and official sources said it was possible that the Formosa government would not immediately withdraw its ambassador from Paris.

France's recognition of Communist China increased Peking's chances of gaining a seat at the United Nations. But most diplomats believed China's drive would fail, at least this year.

France's move was expected to change the anti-Peking position of some of the African members of the French community toward China's U.N. seat. Most of these former French colonies have voted for Nationalist China in the past. Now, many of them—but not all — are likely to switch to Communist China.

The State Department in Washington, D.C., said the United States "regrets" France's decision to diplomatically recognize Red China, "particularly at a time when the Chinese Communists are actively promoting aggression and subversion . . ."

MODESTO ROBBER STABBED IN BACK

Near Fatal Attack Disrupts Quiet Of Afternoon Outing At San Quentin Prison

A near-fatal stabbing disrupted the quiet of an afternoon outing in the warm sun at San Quentin Prison yesterday.

Richard M. Lewis, 26, a Modesto robber who once held a mother and daughter as hostages, was stabbed in the back during the outing in the prison yard.

Despite a slight improvement last night, he was reported still in critical condition today—at the prison hospital.

Prison guards nabbed Thomas Eugene Busby, 28, a San Mateo car thief, as the suspected assailant.

Officials reported the guards heard a scuffle in the yard, found Lewis wounded, and overpowered Busby who was standing nearby with a stilleto in his hand.

The weapon was a 12-inch piece of rectangular steel that had been fashioned into the shape of a stilleto.

Prison officials reported they knew of no reason for the assault. The Marin County district attorney's office today was investigating the stabbing.

It was the first time in memory of prison officials that a suspect was caught immediately after a stabbing. In most cases, there is no immediate clue to the assailant and the victim doesn't tell.

Lewis, who arrived at the prison Sept. 6, 1960, is serving a five year to life sentence. Busby arrived at the prison last Nov. 12.

DANCE

crowd had again gathered outside the recreation center.

Again they dispersed the throng. But Rester was called back a third time when Margoliash found an unsigned note on the windshield of his car threatening to "get him" either at the recreation center or in San Rafael. Spark plus wires of his car had been torn out.

Corte Madera Police Officer Charles Newman said hundreds of beer cans and bottles littered Manzanita and Eastman Avenues. Herbert A. Schmid of 441 Manzanita Avenue reported to police that there were 50 beer cans on his front lawn.

James H. McGee of 224 Eastman Avenue, Corte Madera, reported to police at 9:06 p.m. that youths were drinking in cars in front of his home. One of the cars had pulled into his garage, he said.

A tire and wheel, valued at $95, and a purse containing $2 and identification papers were stolen from the cab of a pick-up truck while its two occupants were attending the dance.

The vehicle, belonging to Frank P. Onorato, 17, of 36 Crane Drive, San Anselmo was parked in the 500 block of Eastman Avenue. The purse belonged to Linda Duffy of 460 Blacktone Drive, Marinwood.

An ordinance adopted by the town council last Dec. 16, limiting the number of dances to be held at the recreation center because of prior incidents, states: "Any incidents requiring intervention of the Corte Madera police department will be sufficient cause to cancel dances and revoke (business) licenses."

Councilman Albert E. Kogler, member of the Corte Madera Lions Club which sponsors the dances, voted against the ordinance.

He said today that Saturday's incident "would be sufficient cause" to bring the matter up for discussion at the Feb. 3 council meeting.

Shocked Woman Sees Man Leap Off Gate Bridge

A San Francisco woman motorist watched in horror at 4:13 a.m. yesterday as the car ahead of her pulled to a stop in the northbound lane of the Golden Gate Bridge near the south tower, and the driver jumped out and vaulted over the railing.

Alice Lantz of San Francisco flagged a California Highway Patrol car and reported what she had seen.

The stopped car was that of Thomas Andrew Dean of San Franisco. No note was found in it. A Coast Guard search failed to find the body of the leaper.

San Francisco police reported Dean was believed to have been driving the car. He had a wife and a three-month-old son, at home in San Francisco.

Prisoners Flee Lower Lake Camp

Two prisoners escaped from San Quentin's conservation camp at Lower Lake in Lake County last night, Associated Warden Dale B Frady reported.

Reported missing at the camp at 7:40 p.m. were Jerrol E. DuBose, 34, serving a sentence for forgery in Los Angeles County, and Jesse Morrison, 25, serving a sentence for second degree burglary in Stanislaus County.

The men, dressed in prison blue denims, were last seen at the camp about two hours before they were reported missing, Fradv said.

Allied Force At Cyprus Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Britain has proposed that a peace-keeping force drawn from the United States and other NATO countries be sent to Cyprus to maintain order, the State Department said today.

Department spokesman Richard I. Phillips said, "We together with other interested governments are currently reviewing the entire range of problems involved in Cyprus."

Phillips said the British advanced the suggestion as a "general idea," thus indicating that it fell short of being a formal request for troop assistance. The spokesman said it was "one of several ideas put forward by Britain and others on the whole problem of Cyprus."

JURY

replaced in the new wing of the Civic Center within a few years.

The other area where little cooperation from the Board is expected is with the question raised by the Sausalito School District about alleged inequities caused by the government-owned land at Marin City. Bruce's report notes that the tax rate of the district is exceeded by several other school districts in Marin, and that the Redevolpment Agency is proceeding as rapidly as possible with redevelopment of Marin City, putting much of the land back on the tax roll.

On the Jury's request for a long range capital improvements program, the report notes that such a program is now being worked up in the Administrator's office. Studies will also be held on the proposed salary revisions for property appraisers in the County Assessor's office, according to Bruce.

Budget requests will be made for a vector control officer for the Health Department to combat disease spreading pests, mainly rats, in the County. Added staff will be asked for inventory control in the Public Works Department.

The question of uniform pay for Police Officers throughout the County should be studied, the reply says, but not by a new special committee.

The Sheriff is now reviewing the problem of vandalism to road signs, another problem mentioned by the Grand Jury.

On the question of adequate space for the Health Department, Bruce's statement denies a claim in the Grand Jury report that Health Department facilities may not be moved to the second stage of the Civic Center. The claim was made because the present headquarters were provided with federal Hill-Burton funds on a 20-year contract, only 10 years of which have run. Bruce said plans call for leaving laboratory and clinic facilities in the present building.

'Paradise Of California Has Trouble'

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — There is trouble, "even in this paradise of California."

That was one of the warnings today to the opening session of a two-day conference to diagnose and prescribe for the problems the California citizen will face 20 years from now.

The conference, titled "Man in California: 1980s," brought together nearly 500 leaders in industry, science, government and education.

Their goal is to create a "Congress on the California Man" and set the stage for continuing studies relating to California's terrific rate of growth —and its consequences.

Dr. Jesse E. Hobson, vice president of Southern Methodist University and former director of the Stanford Research Institute, said in issuing the "trouble in paradise" warning:

"California is prosperous. The standard if living is high. There are excellent highways, airports and public parks. There is a delightfully pleasant and stimulating climate . . . "

Yet, he said, the California man is "uneasy, restless, afraid of himself and of his fellow man." Hobson pointed to the state's high suicide, divorce, delinquency, traffic accident and alcoholism rates.

He said the California man two decades hence will be most concerned with problems of mental, emotional and behavioral well-being.

The educator decried the millions spent in the United States "on trying to find the best lubricant to keep friction down in machines" and the comparatively few dollars spent "trying to find the lubricant to cut down friction among men."

She was described as in her mid-40s.

A police official said "all signs point a strangling," but he would not elaborate. The Contra Costa County Coroner's office, which ordered an immediate autopsy to determine the caues of death, called it "either a bludgeoning or strangling."

Two Deputy Sheriffs Hurt In Marin Crashes

Two Marin County deputy sheriffs were injured in weekend traffic accidents. Drivers were cited by the California Highway Patrol.

Deputy Sheriff Raymond Harold Tschirgi, 29, of 847 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, was treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises on his left arm and neck after the patrol car he was driving collided with another car on Tiburon Boulevard, one-half mile east of Blackfield Drive, at 11:05 p.m. Saturday.

Tschirgi was driving the patrol car, its red light flashing, east of Tiburon Boulevard in response to a call from Sam's Anchor Cafe of a drunk causing trouble.

The highway patrol reported Tschirgi passed a car in his lane and then hit a westbound car driven by Paul Jerome Keeler, 54, of 8 Barn Road, Bel Aire. Keeler was cited for driving to the left of the double line.

Deputy Sheriff George J. Johnsen, 33, of 1225 Kaehler Street, Novato, was reported in good condition today in Marin General Hospital, under treatment for a back injury suffered when his patrol car was hit from the rear on Highway 101 north of Atherton Avenue, Novato, at 4:55 p.m. yesterday.

Gerald Thomas Lombardi, 21, of Petaluma, whose car hit that driven by Johnsen, was cited by the highway patrol for speeding.

Johnson was involved in a traffic accident in Mill Valley about a year ago in which he suffered a back injury that incapacitated him for six months.

Aspiration Killed Boy, Autopsy Finds

An autopsy showed cause of death of Steven Harry Heard, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack S. Heard, 3 Azalea Drive, Mill Valley, last Thursday was aspiration while asleep, the Marin County coroner's office said today.

It was first reported to the Independent-Journal that death resulted from strangulation on a piece of steak.

William Bradley, assistant coroner, said the youth retired at home about 45 minutes prior to the choking.

Steven was pronounced dead by a neighboring physician who attempted to revive him. He was discovered choking by his father, whose efforts at mouth-to-mouth resuscitation failed.

The elder Heard has requested that memorial contributions be made to the Marin Catholic High School library fund.

Friman was driving west on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. His car was hit by one being driven north by Charles Edward Pagamini, 52, of 600 Point San Pedro Road, San Rafael, according to the California Highway Patrol.

A burglary involving theft of a short mink coat and a neck piece from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. Shatz, 216 San Marino Drive, was reported by San Rafel police today.

Value of the furs was not immediately determined.

Police Inspector Richard Camper said the Shatzes were away over the weekend. A neighbor boy, Robert S. Findlay III, 213 San Marino Drive, found a laundryroom door broken open when he arrived to feed the Shatzes' German shepherd dog Saturday.

Camper said the intruders apparently had let the dog out of the house. Neighbors heard it barking.

BOTANIST GIVEN EVICTION 'STAY'

Hearing Due Before Judge Wednesday Regarding Site Purchased By State

A "stay" of three days has been given W. Warren Anderson by the State of California on eviction of his rare plant nursery from Frank's Valley Road near Muir Woods.

Anderson, 68, was told he would be subject to eviction by the sheriff's department yesterday. The seven acres on which he resides has been purchased by the state and is now part of Mount Tamalpais State Park.

A meeting has been set for 4:15 p.m. Wednesday, at which a representative of the state attorney general's office will ask Superior Judge N. Charles Brusatori to issue an order of eviction.

"We will oppose this," said Albert Bianchi, Anderson's attorney, today. "We will oppose on the grounds the property is not being used now by the state for anything, the state has appropriated no funds for its use, and there would be no prejudice to the state if Anderson stays a little longer in time to find another site."

Anderson, who has 5,000 potted plants and various equipment, claims he has been unable to find another nursery site in Marin.

Trailer Row Gun Threat Jails Novatan

A Novato trailer court resident was held in jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon today after reportedly threatening another resident of the same court with a double-barreled shotgun.

Robert E. Daugherty, 31, of Bobo's Trailer Park at 7060 Redwood Highway, was jailed under $1,100 bail on complaint of Vivian Marie Appel, 54, a resident of the same court.

Novato police said a quarrel started between Daugherty and Emil A. Neckritz, 65, whose trailer was next to Daugherty's. Mrs. Appel got into the argument, police said, whereupon Daugherty entered his trailer and emerged with the shotgun.

Mrs. Appel said Daugherty held the gun against her ribs, pushed her backward with it, and threatened, "I'm going to blow your head off."

When police arrived, they found the gun was not loaded.

Two Children Die In Creek

CONCORD (UPI)—Mount Diablo was a scene of tragedy and joy yesterday when one rescue party found the bodies of two children in rain-swollen Mount Diablo Creek and another found three weary, but unhurt, boys who wanted to "see snow on the mountain."

Contra Costa County sheriff's deputies found the bodies of 11-year-old Timothy Cummins and his sister Melody, 9 of Concord, at a point where the creek forms a deep pool.

The children were noticed missing about 3 p.m. Saturday after they had been playing by the creek. Deputies, Marines, and neighbors searched for hours and then dragged the creek.

Big Plane Misses High Power Line

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A crippled troop cargo plane with 16 men aboard landed safely in a field of tomatoes only a few feet short of a high-voltage power line yesterday.

If the C123 had hit the line "with all that fuel on board, plus a full supply of liquid oxygen, there wouldn't have been any plane left," said an Air Force fire chief.

No one was hurt.

The plane, based at Plattsburg N.Y. Air Force Base had flown only nine miles from nearby Homestead Air Force Base when one engine went out.

Youth Hurt; Driver Faces 'Run' Count

Robin Kevin Brown, 20-year-old Palo Alto janitor, was free on $1,100 total bail today on felony charges of hit-run and drunken driving after a traffic mishap yesterday which injured a teen-ager.

Hurt was Robert Edward Suttles, 17, of 626 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael. He was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for left arm and leg bruises.

San Rafael police said Suttles and other teen-agers were helping a vehicle from a ditch in the 200 block of Jewell Street about 1:10 a.m. when Brown drove up. Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Early Advance Fades, But Trading Active

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed mixed today as an early advance faded. Trading was active.

Steels advanced early in the day but held only narrow gains toward the end.

Recent big gainers were clipped back sharply.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.3 million shares compared with 5.09 million Friday.

Gains of fractions to a point or more among key stocks outnumbered losers, but there were plenty of the latter.

Steels rose in response to increasing demand and a fat bulge in profits for Republic Steel. Most gains of the top steelmakers were fractional but Republic added a point.

General Motors was steady, trimming a fractional gain. G.M. reported record earnings for the second straight year.

Du Pont also reported peak profits and rose more than a point.

Standard Oil (New Jersey), up more than a point, and Radio Corp., keeping a fraction of a bigger early rise, also touched new highs.

Helene Curtis gained more than 2 and Ampex and American Hospital Supply more than a point each.

Thanks to a single trade of 98,000 shares at a fractional gain, General American Transportation was the volume leader in late dealings.

Sharp profit-taking was apparent in a number of stocks. Dymo Industries was sold heavily and lost 3. G. D. Searle fell more than 2, IBM 6, U.S. Smelting nearly a point and Parke, Davis a fraction.

Colorado Fuel and Iron was in heavy demand and advanced nearly a point.

Pennsylvania Railroad was heavily traded and fractionally lower.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were mixed with some wide moves.

U.S. government bonds were unchanged to a shade lower in spots. Corporates were lower.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Here's How You Can File On Form 1040A

By P. J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

Federal form 1040A is the simple tax return. You can use this form if your income was less than $10,000 and was wages reported on W-2s and not more than $200 of income from other wages, dividends, and interest.

P. J. Wikel

You may use form 1040A if you: Had other income; claim status as head of household; claim status as surviving spouse; claim credit for retirement income; claim credit for dividends; are delinquent in filing your return; claim exclusion for sick pay; do not use the cash method; use a fiscal year; paid an estimated tax during the year; are subject to the self-employment tax; itemize deductions, or your spouse itemizes; claim travel, transportation, or other expenses.

If you use form 1040A and your income is under $5,000, you may fill it in and figure the tax yourself from the tax table or the Internal Revenue Service will figure your tax for you. If the Internal Revenue Service figures your tax and sends you a bill, this will naturally give you a little longer to pay any tax you may owe. You will be charged interest from April 15, 1964 to the date of payment.

Husband and wife can file a joint return on form 1040A if their combined income does not exceed $10,000.

By using form 1040A you automatically claim the standard 10 per cent deduction for personal expenses like contributions, interest, taxes, medical expenses and so on. If your allowable deductions for these items is over 10 per cent of your income you should use form 1040 and claim them.

You are expected to pay your income tax on the basis of the lowest figure possible; therefore, you should choose the form that results in the lowest tax for you.

NEW YORK (AP) — General Motors Corp. in 1963 earned $1,592,000,000, a sum never before equaled in a calendar year by any corporation. Sales, likewise a record, totaled 16.5 billion dollars, GM reported today.

In summarizing what in many ways was an unprecedented year in the automobile industry, General Motors also reported new high marks in car and truck production, payroll, dividends paid and profit per share of common stock.

The only earnings achievement approaching the G.M. 1963 figure was the $1,474,404,000 in net income reported by American Telephone and Telegraph Co. for the 12 months ended Nov. 30. AT&T has not yet given its figures for calendar 1963.

In 1962, G.M., the world's largest manufacturing concern, set its previous highs of $1,459,000,000 in net profits and 14.6 billion dollars in sales.

Winter Market Week Set Record If All Had Luck Of L. W. Waldon

Winter Market Week last week at the Western Merchandise Mart in San Francisco must have set some kind of record this year. According to L. W. (Bill) Waldon of San Anselmo, his company (Douglas Furniture Manufacturing Co.) had its heaviest market day in history on Wednesday. From remarks he heard from other dealers, he believes it was reflected throughout the mart. Evidently buyers are out to restock showrooms in a big way.

From a Department of Commerce tabulation, furniture and appliances scored the highest percentage gain of all principal retail groups last year over 1962—7.7 per cent. The same group tied second highest with automobiles for the month of December, with an increase of 9.7 per cent over December of 1962.

PACIFIC INTERIORS, completing its second year in San Rafael in March and specializing in carpeting, drapes, home and office furnishings, is expanding its service in Sonoma County, according to owner Tom Manahan. A new office will be opened in Santa Rosa at 2979 Cleveland Avenue under Paul Corbin who has been associated with the firm in an advisory capacity for the past 10 months.

ONE MAN JOB. Taking inventory can be a headache, and if it occupies the time of two people, a lot of man-hours can be consumed.

Ken McKenzie, owner of McKenzie's Children's Bootery and now McKenzies Junior Vogue—both at 1000 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael—has licked at least part of the problem very simply. He uses a tape recorder. But, he adds, you still wind up talking to yourself.

CORTE MADERA PET SHOP, 40 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera has a new owner who slipped in not long ago without a word about it. He is Clayton Shipway, who bought out Erven Keppel. Shipway was formerly with Robinson's Pet Shop in San Francisco. He has already done some remodeling—more is yet to come. Elaine's Grooming Service for dogs still continues here.

ALTHOUGH Marin Products Co., Inc. has moved to its new plant in Ignacio, Marin Produce still operates from the old address at 700 A Street, San Rafael. The similarity of names has always been confusing here, particularly with both using the same address.

Marin Products is the frozen food business—Marin Produce, a partnership of Sal Balestrieri and Joe Coselli, sells fresh produce to restaurants, hospitals and institutions. And though the two are now separated geographically the mixup may still continue—Marin Produce is doing some of the frozen food distribution to institutions.

MAHONEY STEEL CO., new reinforcing steel business of ambitious young James D. Mahoney, has now settled on a 12,000-square foot piece of property at West Railroad Avenue and Lisbon Street, San Rafael—near the old airport. No street number has ever been assigned to this location, but you will recognize it by the de luxe office trailer on the lot which provides Mahoney with a three-room suite for his headquarters.

IT'S NO SECRET that while women may not wear the pants in the family, they usually have a lot to say about what kind their menfolk should buy. In order to get the woman's viewpoint on men's apparel before stocking its shelves and racks, Marcus Men's Shop in San Rafael has engaged Evangeline Baker, KNBR commentator, as fashion consultant. She'll help Warren Marcus select the right habiliments at markets and style shows throughout the year.

Oldsmobile Sales Continue Climb

LANSING, MICH.—Oldsmobile dealers continued to better their sales performance of a year ago by delivering an estimated 11,806 new Oldsmobiles to their customers in the sales period Jan. 11-20, it has been announced by Emmett P. Feely, the division's general sales manager.

"For the first two periods of the new year," Feely said, "sales total 25,275, representing a 10 per cent increase over the same period of 1963."

He reported the sales breakdown in January's second period as 3,298 F-85's and 8,508 full size Oldsmobiles.

Waste Becomes Useful

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lignin, the gluey substance that holds wood fibres together, for years was a waste in the pulp industry. But today it is a source of vanillin (an imitation vanilla), tanning agents, fertilizer additivese, adhesives used in oil-drilling muds, ceramics and concrete mixes. Yeasts and alcohols also come from the pulp liquors.

Health Service Accepts Report On Smoking

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service announced today acceptance of the principal findings and conclusions of the report of the Surgeon General's advisory committee on smoking and health.

The committee of experts said that on the basis of prolonged study and evaluation of many lines of evidence it had reached this judgment:

"Cigarette smoking is a health hazard of sufficient importance in the United States to warrant appropriate remedial action."

At the time the report was made public Jan. 11, Surgeon General Luther Terry said it did not represent the official position of the health service. He said a decision on this would be reached after completion of an analysis and study by members of his staff.

Announcing acceptance of the principal findings and conclusions, Terry said the service is now developing programs for action which are needed and feasible in light of the findings and conclusions.

These plans, to be announced shortly, will cover education, public information and research activities, Terry said.

Johnson Urges Funds For Suburb Planning

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson extended a helping hand today to fast-growing suburban communities swamped by demands for "new classrooms, uncounted miles of new streets and utility lines, and an unprecedented volume of water and sewerage facilities."

He asked Congress to provide federal grants and loans to local governments and private developers so future expansion won't be carried out, as it often has in the past, "in a sprawling, space-consuming, unplanned and uneconomic way."

This was the major new proposal in the president's message to Congress on housing and community development, but he also had a few new wrinkles in the older, established programs such as public housing and urban renewal.

These variations included plans to buy and rent existing housing for public housing purposes and new aid for those ousted by urban renewal projects.

Johnson outlined to Congress a comprehensive program to achieve the goal he set shortly after taking office last fall: "A decent home for all Americans."

He called for expanded public housing and urban renewal, and new programs to help provide homes for farmers and migratory farm workers.

In the first major housing legislative proposal since 1961, Johnson renewed some old demands of the late President John F. Kennedy.

He called for creation of a Cabinet-level Department of Housing and Community Development and urged Congress to act swiftly on a mass transit bill, already passed by the Senate and awaiting House action.

Johnson promised Negroes that his administration "will continue and strengthen its efforts to translate the pledge" made by Kennedy in his 1962 order against discrimination in federally assisted housing "into meaningful practice."

Salami Thieves Raid Restaurant

Food from the Pantry at 5949 Redwood Highway, Ignacio, provided a tasty haul for burglars—probably juveniles—over the weekend, sheriff's deputies reported.

Owner Henry D. Hillman reported the restaurant was broken into by burglars who apparently took a 10-gallon soup kettle and filled it with sausage, salami, cheese, bread sticks, beef jerkey, towels and aprons. Deputy George J. Johnsen said the rear door had been pried open with a screwdriver and tire iron.

Similar pry marks and tennis shoe prints were found later Saturday around a vacant house at 448 Calle de Mesa, Loma Verde. A fire had been built in the fireplace, and Johnson guessed the burglars may have feasted on the Pentry's supplies in the nearby house.

Consideration for thousands of visitors who descend steps beneath St. Peter's Basilica to pray before Pope John's resting place each week was said to have figured in Pope Paul's decision.

Monogamy Is Not Natural, Doctor Says

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Marriage to one wife at a time is bizarre and unnatural, a medical research pioneer told a University of California symposium on "the family's search for survival."

"Considering man as he is, as a mammal," said Dr. Russell V. Lee at the windup of the two-day meeting yesterday, "monogamous marriage is a bizarre and unnatural state."

"In a state of nature," he continued, "the normal buck, bull, stallion or primate collects, dominates, protects and impregnates as many females as he possibly can.

"This has had important beneficial generic results in assuring that the species will be bred from the strongest and most aggressive males. Only the strong procreate."

He said males have gone against many of their instincts as they have accepted the comparatively recent idea of monogamous marriage. Man has lost the hero role and much of the pride that used to go with fatherhood, he added.

Dr. Lee, father of five and grandfather of 20 after 46 years of marriage, is founder of the Palo Alto Medical Clinic and the Palo Alto Medical Research Foundation.

As for the family, the experts at the system decided that it will survive the stresses of modern society and may function better than it has in the past.

About 900 persons, many of them professionals concerned with family problems, attended the symposium sponsored by Syntex Laboratories, Inc., and presented by the University of California School of Medicine.

"Is the family necessary?" authorities in the medical and social sciences and the humanities were asked at the opening session. They concluded it is.

The huge, inflated satellite making polar orbits is slated to be visible in the east at about 5:15 p.m. and in the west at about 7 p.m.

It orbited across the Bay Area four times this morning, but visibility was obscured by a heavy layer of fog.

Tiburon, dogs and smog will be major items tomorrow on the agenda of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, meeting at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center.

The Board is scheduled to take official action on Tiburon boundaries, which were voted following a public hearing last Wednesday, after receiving a new map from the public works department and an estimate of population from the planning department.

Officials of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District will appear late in the day to argue for support for the district's request to the State Legislature that its maximum tax rate be raised from 1 cent to 1.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The Public Works Department and County Counsel's office are expected to make a new report on contract negotiations on a lease for a heliport on Richardson Bay.

Board decision is due on Marin Highlands, proposed development of 250 acres of the Pimentel Ranch near Novato. At issue is whether cluster housing should be allowed.

Plans for development of county property in Lucas Valley near juvenile hall will be discussed.

The Board will receive a request for immediate consideration of implementing new State Legislation which would turn over budgeting for the County Superintendent of Schools office over to the County Board of Education.

Ekeland declined to reveal the identities of the other objectors or the reasons given for the objections.

Ekeland said Kappas' application is "under submission and is being studied by the Army Engineers." He said he does not know when a decision will be forthcoming. "It could come today or it could take three or four months," said Ekeland.

McCarthy On Right Track In Seeking Bridge Change

State Senator Jack McCarthy's declared intention to see what can be done to win increased representation for Marin and possibly Sonoma Counties on the Golden Gate Bridge board is a step in the right direction.

This move is in line with the oft-expressed view of Tom Hardcastle, one of Marin's two representatives on the 14-man bridge board.

Hardcastle has from time to time observed that Marin commuters are the financial backbone of the bridge. They use the bridge more and pay a larger portion of the bridge's costs than any other category of users.

The bridge is now more than a quarter of a century old. The Bridge and Highway District that built it and operates it is even older. In all this history, there has been only one regular commuter among the many, many directors who have served on the bridge board. That's Tom Hardcastle who is about midway in his first four-year term.

In other words, for nearly three decades, commuters had no direct, first-person commuter representation at all on the bridge board.

Now they have one vote among 14.

That obviously does NOT provide enough voice for the largest group of bridge users, the people who carry the largest share of bridge costs.

Senator McCarthy has noted that the population of Marin has about quadrupled since the bridge was built, but our representation on the bridge board has not increased.

We have grown larger in relation to San Francisco—which has seven directors—and larger in relation to the other counties of the bridge district, but our representation remains what it was 30 years ago when we were only one-quarter as populous.

Obviously it's time for a change.

We suspect that Senator McCarthy senses that outright reapportionment might be politically unacceptable, since it would probably mean San Francisco would have to give up some of its seats to Marin and possibly Sonoma.

The only course then is to increase the number of directors, allocating the new seats to Marin and presumably Sonoma Counties.

The only question is how soon and how many.

We wish the Senator nothing but success in getting the answer to these questions and rectifying the situation.

Task Of Keeping Meetings In Open Seems To Be Never-Ending Battle

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The legislature has made it pretty clear over the years that it expects public agencies to transact the public's business within the public view.

This requirement does not extend to the legislature itself but the lawmakers have been diligent in seeking out possible loopholes in the laws against secret meetings by tax-supported agencies.

Yet it seems that the task of keeping meetings of city councils, boards of supervisors and other agencies actually out in the open is a never-ending one. Too many officials, even with no dishonesty intended, still feel they must find means to by-pass the open meeting requirements.

ONE RECENT CASE in point concerned city councils of San Clemente and San Juan Capistrano in Orange County. Members of these councils were meeting along with civic leaders to discuss such things as the placement of school or airport facilities, sewage disposal and beach erosion.

Under the guise of merely having social gatherings, the public's business — and important business—was being discussed without complying with the laws requiring proper notice of meetings.

ATTY. GEN. Stanley Mosk properly has issued an opinion that this is not cricket and, even if the councils are meeting with other organizations, they must comply with the law if the public's business is to be discussed and transacted at such meetings.

It's not too long ago that the attorney general issued an opinion which held the practice of councils or supervisors meeting at breakfast or lunch, before the regular meeting, to discuss the day's agenda, was illegal. Many officials apparently preferred to discuss the real points at issue in private—then merely take automatic, pre-decided action in public.

A NEW WRINKLE in evading the public eye in proceedings apparently is standard procedure for the board of directors of the California State Fair. This body is appointed by the governor and directs operation of the state fair, the spring fair, horse show and, this year, a new quarter horse race meeting in the spring. The taxpayers contribute to the tune of between one and one and a half million dollars a year which the fair loses.

Under the fair board procedure, proposals are discussed by the directors at open meetings. Quite often, however, before any final action is taken, a committee of three or four members of the board is selected to pursue it. The committee is given complete authority to act for the board in making the decision at some later, unannounced time. No public notice of the committee's meeting is given, yet that is where the real transaction takes place.

JUST RECENTLY, the fair board delegated such authority to a three-man committee considering the problem of signing a contract with an organization of radio and television stations, under which the organization would promise favorable news coverage and support for the fair in return for the advertising budget. The fact that this was a somewhat unusual proposal was all the more reason the contract should have been considered at a full board meeting.

In another instance, after having voted to discontinue judging of California wines at the fair, the subject was reopened and a committee was given the authority to reinstate the $16,000-a-year program of wine judging without further action by the board or without further public discussion of the subject.

Property Taxes Here Don't Seem Too High

Editor, Independent-Journal:

From time to time there have been articles in your, "What Our Readers Say" column by Mr. P. J. Rowland, advocating a statewide gross transaction tax system. I do believe Mr. Rowland is sincere in his conviction that this is really the answer to our tax problems. To be true many have failed and few have had any success in reducing taxes or high prices, which are one and the same.

In receiving my taxes for the last few years however, I cannot understand the reasoning that property taxes are too high. My property tax is only one third that of my income tax. I may point out also that the property tax also includes improvements as well as land. (Namely one house of 1000 sq. ft. on a lot 60x100 ft.)

It is also possible for me to deduct the property tax from the income tax but not vice-versa.

I feel the property taxes are justified as I have been very satisfied located in Marvelous Marin since 1953.

Disregarding all taxes this is the one conception that appears to me to be justified and that is to pay according to your location. This applies to home or business in Marin County or anywhere in the world.

UN Is Trojan Horse Within U.S. Gates

Editor, Independent-Journal:

May I protest the "ad" on the United Nations that appeared in the Jan. 2 I-J? I understand this $100 worth of space was contributed by the Independent-Journal in cooperation with the Advertising Council.

In the first place, over half the space was devoted to a picture of an atomic "mushroom" cloud (with the caption "this is one alternative to the United Nations"). This is real fright peddling at its worst. The choice is not between the UN or the Bomb. The choice is between slavery under the United Nations or freedom and independence under the American Flag.

Secondly, the ad quotes the late President John F. Kennedy as saying "Mankind must put an end to war, or war will put an end to mankind." The kind of war that the UN itself waged in Katanga certainly put an end to a lot of mankind all right. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is quoted as praising the UN for having "accomplished what no nation — or any limited group of nations — could have accomplished alone." And he is certainly right there. I am sure that not even Washington and Moscow together could or would have dared to hire criminal mercenaries to bomb hospitals and ambulances and bring terror and torture to peaceful civilians in Katanga, unless they could have done so under the guise of a United Nations operation.

I recently attended the mock UN session at Redwood High School (as a Portuguese "delegate") in an attempt to learn more about the UN. I had hoped to find answers to some rather disturbing questions. I didn't. I would like to ask the AAUN, the Advertising Council, or the U.S. Committee for the United Nations, what they mean by the "UN in Action"—or do they mean "UN inaction"? And can they explain the double standard used. For example:

— Why did the UN stand idly by while Communism gobbled up Poland, Romania, East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Hungary, China, Tibet—a score of formerly independent nations comprising one third of the world's population—800 million people?

— Why did the UN condemn Portugal while India grabbed Portugese colonies; condemn Holland while Indonesia grabbed Dutch colonies; berate South Africa and ignore the shootings of East German escapees?

—Why does the UN preach self-determination but use brutal force to prevent Katanga, the only pro-Western anti-communist government in Africa, from exercising this prerogative; yet stand silent when for five days in 1957 the Hungarians begged and pleaded for help?

— Why does the U.S. pay 43½ per cent of the annual total UN costs while Russia pays 5.4 per cent? (The U.S. pays over 74 per cent indirectly since our Foreign Aid funds are used by many recipients to pay their UN obligations.)

— Why by agreement and energetic effort, do Communists hold hundreds of key posts in the Secretariat and subsidiary organizations — over one half of the key positions?

The UN is claimed to be mankind's one best hope for the future. It is a false hope. It is smoking marijuana while the house is one fire! It is my conclusion that the UN is a major instrumentality for the establishment of a one-world communist tyranny over the entire world. It is a Trojan Horse, full of thousands of enemy agents, already within the gates of America.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A bright young Madison Avenue man looked in vain for a seat on the crowded 5:15 train, then pushed his way to the last car and called out, "This car has developed a flat wheel and will be detached from the train. Please move up to cars ahead."

With nasty remarks about the railroad, the disgusted occupants of the car cleared out and the bright young man, very satisfied with himself, sat down, opened his newspaper, and waited—and waited.

Finally a conductor appeared. "You the clever gent who announced this car wasn't going?" he inquired. "Yep," nodded the clever one. "Well," said the conductor, "it isn't. You were so convincing, they just uncoupled the car."

To stress his conviction that the people of today are too commercial and material in their outlook, a British bishop cited a question asked of a London stockbroker by his precocious offspring. "Father, why is it that so many churches have plus-signs on them?"

Vin Doyle cites as prime example of a letter nobody has to read all the way to the end: "Sir: Kindly report at the earliest possible time to the U. S. Internal Revenue office, bringing with you all of your records for the past three years...."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

What Is Nixon Doing About Getting GOP'S Presidential Nomination?

NEW YORK — Richard M. Nixon is today visibly in the lead for the Republican presidential nomination.

When you examine all the public opinion polls and when you talk privately with party professionals, he comes out ahead at nearly every point.

But what is Nixon himself going to do? Does he want it? Will he seek it? Will he enter the primaries? Will he let his friends help get it for him? These are the unanswered questions and these are the questions I put to him in an hour-long conversation in his law office at 20 Broad Street here in New York.

NIXON WOULD almost certainly not use the words which I am going to use in describing his position on all of these matters, but there is no doubt in my mind that the blunt, factual answers to these questions are as follows:

Nixon is not going to do anything to keep from getting the nomination.

He is going to do numerous things—speaking, writing, expounding "positive Republican alternatives" to Johnson administration policies and traveling to one or more hot spots abroad — which will have the effect of enhancing his prospects.

He does not intend to become a declared candidate.

He is not planning to enter any primaries.

He is not going to "encourage or discourage" his friends from working in his behalf or possibly organizing write-in campaigns in some states.

He would heed the call of his party for a draft if it were genuine.

He points out that he ran for governor in 1962 because most GOP leaders in California were convinced that he would be their strongest candidate and there is no doubt that he would respond in the same way if the Republican National Convention turned to him.

Finally, Nixon believes that President Lyndon B. Johnson is beatable with the "right kind of campaign" and the "right kind of candidate." He clearly does not limit that description to himself.

IT IS EVIDENT that Nixon has been gaining political strength in recent weeks as Sen. Barry Goldwater has been losing strength and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller has been no more than holding his own, third or fourth on the list. He runs stronger among Republican voters as their first choice for the nomination. He runs better against Johnson than other Republicans.

The latest Harris Poll, for example, shows that 43 per cent of the Republicans favor his nomination as against 33 per cent for Goldwater and 22 per cent for Rockefeller. It shows Nixon getting 41 per cent of the national vote against Johnson as against Goldwater's 33 per cent, Scranton's 32 per cent and Rockefeller's 29 per cent, when the latter are separately pitted against the president. The latest field poll in California shows the same.

Though not an active nor an avowed candidate, Nixon is now receiving at least 1,000 letters a week from well-wishers.

All of this put together does not mean that Nixon is going to get the nomination. But it does show why he is a formidable prospect. He will be more active soon in outlining Republican answers to the Johnson program. Significantly, his next trip abroad will be to South Vietnam.

Most of Mr. Nixon's supporters believe that he does not need to be an avowed candidate to win it.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Castro Stepping Up Guantanamo Trouble

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — There are increasing disquieting indications that Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, aided and abetted by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, is readying a Panama furore-type drive to oust the U. S. from the big Guantanamo naval base it has occupied under lease in Cuba since 1903.

From the mounting evidence, the Communists' apparent strategy is to deliberately provoke violence and incidents at Guantanamo as a prelude to bringing the base issue before the United Nations.

It is deemed highly significant that these disturbing portents have markedly intensified since the Panama crisis and Castro's trip to Moscow.

THE THREATENING developments include:

Soviet bloc representatives at the U. N. are urging Latin American diplomats to take the lead in moves to compel the U. S. to give up control of the Panama Canal and to relinquish Guantanamo — with emphatic assurances of vigorous Red support.

Castro's U. N. representatives have become very active in seeking backing for a plan to denounce the U. S. for "aggression," etc., for holding on to Guantanamo.

The Castro government has again rejected the annual $2,000 gold rental payment for the naval base. However, it collects regularly the monthly $14,000 bill for water for the base—supplied by a Castro-nationalized concern. The water payment is in dollars.

A machinegun disappeared from a locker; later was found hidden on the base near a heavy wire fence in an area constantly patroled by Cuban troops.

Rear Adm. John Bulkeley, base commander, now gets a daily report on what he describes as "rock throwing incidents." Lately, these have noticeably increased, with Cubans throwing rocks at Marines on guard at the base for the obvious purpose of provoking incidents. The Marines are under orders not to retaliate, but on occasion they do.

All U. S. guards are armed with ball ammunition as well as hand grenades. The Marines have four tanks on Guantanamo ready for instant action. The largest field gun is 155-mm. caliber. No planes are stationed there. There are two airfields, but they are very vulnerable.

APPROXIMATELY 1,000 Cubans work on the base, daily traveling to and from their nearby homes. Castro can block this any time he wants to, but is finding it profitable to allow it to continue. He takes more than half of the Cubans' pay, netting him several million dollars a year.

Although the Cuban workers are closely checked, U. S. authorities take it for granted that there are Castro agents among them.

Strange Things Going On In Sausalito And Not Ping Pong

GOING INTO the Tides Bookshop the other night we met Kay Ksanda coming out who asked, "Hey, you know what's happening in Sausalito?"

"No," we said, "what?" "The latest thing to 'take up' is getting your own medium," said Kay.

She said this relates to parapsychology. That is, the study of mental phenomena not explainable by acceptable principles of science.

She went on to tell us about Dr. J. B. Rhine and Edgar Cayce and the Beria mansion in Moscow being haunted and being exorcised to remove ghosts. Jean Dixon, said she, prognosticated deaths of Hammarskjold and Kennedy and is now forecasting Khrushchev will be out in 18 months, replaced by a "professorial type."

Kay said that some people consult their mediums before buying and selling stocks and bonds.

WE ASKED KAY if she believes in this stuff of spirits, mediums and such and she replied that she has talked with many people about it and all have either had experiences of psychic phenomena or know of them through someone else.

"I went to get this Cayce book," she said. "They had three copies and the girl said 'What's happening? Is there a seminar in town on spiritualism? We have sold our three books and had 11 or 12 requests.' "

"Why have dances and ping pong?" asked Kay. "Let's have seances. Parapsychology takes in extrasensory perception, or as Kay says, "E.S.P."

Asked for specific cases of phenomena, Kay told about the great white owl. Rosemary Mitchell, a Navajo girl who believes in the symbolism of the white owl, was working in the mold loft in Marinship one day when in flew the great white owl and gave Rosemary's friend, also a Navajo, the stare.

THE NEXT DAY, said Kay, the friend learned her parents and little brother were killed in an auto accident. Rosemary moved to San Francisco.

Helga Pankin tells of being awakened in bed one night to find a man with no face standing beside her in a raincoat. Helga screamed and the man disappeared. A few days later she learned that a former boy friend had died. "It was he," said she.

F. S. Edsall in his book "The World of Pyschic Phenomena" says for most of us no other world exists except the one we know. In large, it encompasses the solar system, Milky Way and an infinite number of galaxies way out in space. In little, it is the world of the self.

The world of psychic phenomena is a world, he adds, "of ghosts and apparitions of poltergeist capers, of visions and voice, of dreams, of hypnotism . . . It is the world of the accurate hunch, of communication between mind and mind without physical means."

"I don't believe in ghosts," says Serge Trubach. "I don't have to because I know we're all ghosts ourselves. We come into the world in a ghost-like beginning. We don't know what brought us here. . . . We wouldn't know we are here except for our sense of chemical existence."

As Kay says, "Why have dances and ping pong?"

One Cigarette Company Is Solving Problem Of 'After-Report' Image

WASHINGTON — There is no question that the cigarette companies are in a tremendous amount of trouble since the government report on smoking. The Federal Trade Commission has indicated they may force the companies to label the cigarette packages with all sorts of warnings, including the tar and nicotine content of each pack.

Will the cigarette companies be able to survive this assault? We believe they will. It's just a question of advertising.

We take you now to the board room of the Frantic Cigarette Company, where the Chairman, the advertising agency executives, the Vice President In Charge of Sales and public relations counselors are going at it hot and heavy.

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD: "Gentlemen, have you come up with any ideas since our last meeting?"

"Well, J. L., I think we have to change our brand name. What do you think of calling our cigarettes 'Blue Cross'? It has a nice medical sound to it."

"That's not bad," the Chairman of the Board says. "It certainly shows we have the smoker's interest at heart."

"J. L.," the Advertising Manager says, "we've taken a survey and no one seems to know what the tar and nicotine content in a cigarette means, so what I suggest is we play up the tar and nicotine percentages. We could say Blue Cross cigarettes contain twice, yes twice, as much tar as any leading brand. Independent research shows that there is 13 per cent more nicotine in a Blue Cross than in any other cigarette. Why pay more for less tar and nicotine when you can smoke Blue Cross?"

J. L. says, "It's a thought."

ADVERTISING MANAGER: "We've been working on a campaign for television. Our first commercial shows a car going off a cliff. Then we close in on the smashed-up driver, who says, "If I had been home smoking Blue Cross, this would have never happened."

"The second commercial shows a mountain climber hanging by a rope from Mount Everest. He turns to the audience as the rope breaks and shouts, "Fresh air will kill you!"

PUBLIC RELATIONS MAN: "We were thinking of serializing Henry Miller's 'Tropic of Cancer.' There should be a great audience identification there."

"You're sick," J. L. says. "What else?"

"We have a show called 'Disaster.' One week we'd deal with an earthquake, the next week a flood, the next week a forest fire. The idea is that there a lot worse things in the world than smoking."

"Now, gentlemen, we're fighting for our lives and we're going to need every one of you if we're going to save the company. In order to win this fight and keep all of you on your toes I'm issuing a new rule: No one in the organization will be allowed to smoke. The company comes first and if we're going to sell cigarettes I don't want a lot of sick people on my hands."

K. C. Athletics Invited To Oakland!

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland City Council voted today to invite the Kansas City Athletics of the American League to move to Oakland and play the 1964 baseball season here.

The council offered to spend $500,000 to convert Frank Youell Field to baseball by April 2.

Charles O. Finley, owner of the Athletics, said, "I'll take this under advisement and will request a meeting with the American League."

Such a move would take more than completion of Coliseum Inc.'s $25 million arena, which would give Oakland a major league capacity park. Construction on the arena has been bogged by litigation but is expected to begin within a few months.

Finley also would need approval of the American League, which already has rejected his request to move his franchise to Louisville, Ky. The league also ordered Finley to sign a lease with Kansas City by Feb. 1 or face expulsion from the league.

Finley, who is still trying to obtain permission for the Louisville move, began casting about for a new homesite after a disagreement with Kansas City on contract terms.

Horace Stoneham, president of the National League's San Francisco Giants, said in Phoenix that he knew nothing of Finley's visit. In reply to a question, Stoneham said he would have no control over an American League move into Oakland.

"I do have control over San Francisco and Candlestick," he added, "and I shouldn't think we'd let an American League team play there."

Chi Chi Steals Lucky Golf Show

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Little Juan Rodriguez and lanky Don January met at 18 holes today for the Lucky International Open golf championship — a play-off that was strictly a longshot possibility with one hole to go in yesterday's final regulation round.

Third-round leader January held a two-stroke lead over the colorful Puerto Rican with only Harding Park's 18th hole to play — but Rodriguez birdied, January bogeyed and professional golf had its first playoff of the year. Their 72-hole scores of 12-under-par 272 — equalling the tournament record—indicated that even a 68 might not be good enough to win today.

They met for $3,500, as the winner was to collect $7,500 and the loser — the tournament's second-placer — $4,000.

Rodriguez, who stands only 5-7, has never been in a pro playoff. January lost the 1956 Western Open and 1961 PGA titles in extra rounds.

Arnold Palmer eventually tied for third with Ray Floyd while Mason Rudolph and Gene Littler were another two strokes back at 277. Bill Casper and Tommy Jacobs were at 278, Jon Gustin, Art Wall and Dave Ragan at 279, and U.S. Open champion Julius Boros, PGA and Masters king Jack Nicklaus and Jim Ferrier at 280.

A sun-drenched gallery of 16,000 followed Rodriguez. He shot 66, January 68 and Palmer 70. Their progress read like a movie scenario as January rallied to protect his lead every time except once—at the 18th.

Rodriguez played with Palmer, one threesome ahead of January, and won the hearts of what started out as Arnie's army with his impromptu twists, straw hat-throwing and conversation with galleryites.

January, who had shot 66-68-70, started the round at 204, nine under par for the tournament. Palmer, 67-66-71—205, was eight under and the Puerto Rican, 72-69-65—206 was seven under.

Rodriguez, a 120-pounder nick-named Chi Chi, birdied the first hole with a 45-foot putt to deadlock Palmer but January sent a nine-iron within 18 inches for his birdie.

Palmer got his first birdie with a 15-footer at the fourth hole but Rodriguez caught him again with a 20-footer at the fifth.

When Palmer holed a three-foot birdie putt and Rodriguez a 12-footer at No. 7, the tourney was in a three-way tie at 10-under-par for 61 holes.

But January, a soft-spoken Texan now playing out of Walnut, Calif., went ahead with a fine 35-foot birdie putt at the par-three eighth hole and built his 63-hole lead to two strokes with a two-footer at the par-five ninth after an apparently errant second shot hit a spectator and bounded into the fairway.

January recovered from potential bogey situations at the 12th and 13th with seven-foot par putt and chip to the lip, respectively. But Palmer and Rodriguez pulled within a stroke with birdie putts of four and 32 feet, respectively, at No. 14. Not for long were they that close as January promptly holed a nine-footer for a birdie at 14.

The tide turned at No. 16. Rodriguez saved a par on the tree-studded, 337-yard par-four hole with a splendid chip shot, but Palmer fell out of contention with a bogey brought on by the trees.

January also bogeyed when his tee shot went into the trees and he tried unsuccessfully to hit the green over the foliage.

"I should have played that shot safely to in front of the green," said January in retrospect.

"I felt strong from then on," said Rodriguez as he recalled his chip.

At No. 17, however, January went back to a two-stroke lead with a four-foot birdie putt after a fine tee shot.

Came the decisive 18th:

Palmer, who could have tied with an eagle, bogeyed.

Rodriguez knocked a nine-iron within 10 feet and holed his putt for a birdie three.

January, needing only a par to win, knocked his second shot onto the green but 40 feet above the pin.

"I thought I was more downhill on that first putt and I tried to lag," he described. The putt stopped six feet short and his second hung on the left, failing to break. His tap-in produced the deadlock as the crowd edged onto the green.

The playoff is the first since a sudden-death in last September's Portland Open and the first 18-holer since the Western Open of July 1963.

Extra Safety Measures For Winter Olympic Competition

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — The Winter Olympics moved on to the conference table stage today after a return to the drawing board produced added safety measures expected to end an unprecedented series of training accidents that have claimed two lives.

At the conference table, officials were expected to tackle these problems:

1. A protest by the U.S. ski team that seedings based on competition in European events were unfair to the Americans.

2. The Canada-Russia cold war stemming from Soviet charges that the Canadian hockey team plays the game too rough.

3. South Africa's racial policies, and the country's eligibility for the 1964 Summer Olympics in Tokyo.

Meanwhile, competition got underway, today, two days before the official opening of the games Wednesday, with a pair of elimination ice hockey games, and skiers and sledders returned to practice on courses renovated by the weekend session on the drawing board.

New lips had been added to the dangerous curves of the toboggan run, two extra compulsory gates were installed along the men's downhill, the women's downhill received three extra gates and the trunks of trees lining both courses were heavly padded with straw.

Ross Milne, a young Australian skier, was killed Saturday when he careened off the downhill course and crashed Wednesday, a British tobogganer, Kazimierz Kay-Skrzypeski, died of injuries received when his sled shot off the lipless chute.

On Sunday's practices, a pair of British bobsledders hurtled their two-man sled down the track in record time. John Balfanz of Minneapolis was the best of the American ski jumpers and U.S. women speed skaters were outclassed by the Russians.

Britain's Anthony Nash and Robin Dixon made one run down the course in 1:06.06, bettering the time of 1:06.42 set by Italy's Eugenio Monti in last year's world championships. The British team also had the best two-run time of 2:13.20.

At the jumping site, Balfanz made a stylish leap of 251 feet, and Dave Hicks of Duluth, Minn., and Ansten Samuenstuen of Boulder, Colo., soared 246, but all were well back of Norway's Torgeir Brandtzaeg. Brandszaeg made four jumps ranging from 254 to 257 feet.

Russian women swept to the first four places in the 500-meter speed skating event and took the first two places in the 1,500. Lidia Skobilikova, Russian double gold medal winner in 1960, bettered her Olympic record in the 1,500 and Irina Yegorova took the 500.

The top American in the 500 was Marie Lawler of Minneapolis, who finished fifth, one place in front of Janice Smith of Rochester, N. Y. In the 1,500 Jeanne Ashworth of Lake Pacid, N.Y., finished eighth and Miss Smith ninth.

Aussies In Limelight As Cinder Marks Fall

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A flock of indoor track and field records—most of the obscure variety—were broken or tied in four weekend meets as Olympic hopefuls from many nations heightened their preparations for Tokyo, only to have the thunder stolen by a couple of Down Under distance men.

Tiny Albie Thomas of Australia, who equalled the three-mile mark in Toronto Friday, and New Zealand's Bill Baille, who just missed the two-mile record in Portland Saturday, were the stars of the indoor circuit despite the record offorts of sprinter Bob Hayes and veteran hurdler Hayes Jones.

The 5-foot-4, 124-pound Thomas equalled the world indoor three - mile record in 13:26.4 while Baille finished the two-mile in 8:31.9, just 1.2 seconds off the record.

Jones, the Detroit veteran who now has won 49 consecutive indoor hurdles events, rushed to a 5.9 time over four hurdles and 50 yards in Toronto, breaking his own world record of six seconds flat.

The barrel-chested Hayes, competing in Albuquerque, ran a six second flat 60-yard dash, equalling the record.

In Winnipeg, Tom Robinson of the Bahamas, established a world record for the rarely-run 300-meters, finishing in 35 seconds flat. Other top performances there included a 61-2 shot put by Parry O'Brien of Pasadena, and Bill Crother's 1:09.7 run in the 600 yards.

Ralph Boston scored a double in the Oregon meet, winning the 60-yard hurdles in 7.3 and the broad jump with 25-8.

Top performances in Toronto also included 16-foot pole vaults by John Pennel of Northeast Louisiana State and Jeff Chase, Santa Clara, Calif.; a 2:08.3 effort in the 1,000 yards by Crothers and a 1:12.3 600 by George Kerr of Jamaica.

Three Toronto girls, Cathy Chapman, Nancy McCredie and Abie Hoffman, established women's indoor records. The pert Miss Chapman ran the women's 50 yard hurdles in 6.7, Miss McCredie tossed the shot 52-11¾ and Miss Hoffman ran the half mile in 2:11.9.

Baseball Stadium To Be Torn Down

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Sacramento Baseball Assn., Inc., announced over the weekend that the city's 10,000-seat stadium will be demolished as soon as two exhibition games between the San Francisco Giants and the Cleveland Indians are played April 11 and 12.

Fred David, president of the association, said the group plans "if possible, to sell the real estate." There have been reports of offers as high as $800,000 for the nine-acre site.

The stadium, built in 1910 and rebuilt in 1948 after a fire, has been largely inactive since the Sacramento Solons abandoned their Pacific Coast League franchise after the 1960 season.

Marin Rallies To Nip All-Star Alumni Team

College of Marin's basketball team had to use a rally in the final five minutes to beat the alumni team, 85-81, Saturday night in a game that was close most of the way.

The Tars led at halftime, 40-39, in the game that was played at Redwood High School's gym. But in the second half, the alums went ahead by 10 points with only five minutes remaining. Then the Mariners rallied to take over the lead and the victory.

The Tars had a very even scoring attack led by Brad Busch's 20 points. Busch was followed by Ron O'Connell with 19, Jay Johnson with 13, Pete Bardea with 12 and Bill Hodgson with 10.

Top scorers for the lumni team were Bob Stout with 11, Emilio "Junior" Banuelos with 10, Joe McGrath with 8, Lynn Livie with 7, and Ken Gelatti, Jim Wylie, Steve Bryant, Mike Kavanagh and Ron Blum, all with 6 points each.

The Tars will return to Golden Valley Conference action next Friday when they travel to Weed to battle College of Siskiyou. Marin's conference record is 1-2.

Lakers Pin 108-96 Loss On Warriors

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Jerry West and Elgin Baylor have again proven that they are too much for Wilt Chamberlain and company—at least in Los Angeles.

Behind the scoring of West and the scoring and defensive play of Baylor, the Los Angeles Lakers extended their lead in the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn. last night by beating the San Francisco Warriors 108-96.

The win was the second in three games against the Warriors over the weekend, both victories coming on Los Angeles' home court.

Wilt Chamberlain tallied 49 points in the game, but the Laker defense, led by Baylor, held the rest of the Warriors to only 47.

Baylor also manager to hit for 22 points.

LISTON-CLAY

Ballyhoo Starts For Title Fight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Sonny Liston sat inside a private room at the airport with an 11-year-old admirer on his knee, posing for photographers. Outside the locked door, Cassius Clay was yelling, "Come on out. Open the door. Hey, what's the secret?"

The ballyhoo for the Feb. 25 heavyweight title fight at Miami Beach between the stolid champ and the big challenger was off and running.

Earlier Clay and his entourage, equipped with handsome canes, waited menacingly at the gate where Liston's plane was due to land. "I'm going to whup that man," said Clay again and again as he has been saying for months. "I'm the real champ. Why is he late? What's he scared of?"

When the plane finally arrived, Clay took off his coat and yelled for Sonny who was the last man to exit from the first class compartment.

A luggage truck with a fringe on the top quickly spirited Liston and his party away to the private room.

Bill MacDonald, the promoter, and Chris Dundee, his partner, quickly took charge of the arrival party. Press agents barred the door to Clay who kept rapping on the portal with his cane.

POKER FACE

Liston sat still for interviews, his poker face reflecting his annoyance at Clay's persistence.

The champ was asked if he had read some remarks attributed to Clay about his having a mixed group a his training camp in Las Vegas. Clay is suspected of having leanings toward the Black Muslims, an anti-white organization.

"I feel Clay should tend to his own business," said Liston. "And make no remarks about what I do. He is not really a good challenger. I guess he is deservedly No. 1. I don't rate 'em, I fight 'em."

Was Liston upset?

"Even iron wears out after a while," he said. "People get enough of anything. I didn't expect him to show up here. I don't expect him to show up the night of the fight. He might run but I'll finish him within five."

Bob Strampe and Mrs. LaVerne Carter, wife of bowling great Don Carter, were the winners in the $100,000 All-Star bowling tournament which ended yesterday in Dallas. Strampe won the men's division after beating Tommy Tuttle in the finals. Strampe, of Detroit, put together games of 257, 225 and 203 for a 715 series. S. F. Seals Leave For Seven-Game Road Trip

The San Francisco Seals leave the friendly surroundings of the Cow Palace today for a crucial seven-game road trip.

The Seals have snapped out of their early season slump during the past month, largely because the schedule had them playing at home during most of the period.

The Seals extended their Cow Palace winning streak to eight games yesterday before 8,842 fans when Len Haley meshed a rebound at 9:07 of a sudden death period for a 3-2 victory over the Vancouver Canucks.

The victory moved the Seals into a second-place tie with Los Angeles Angels. But San Francisco is still just seven points out of fifth place, and anything but a winning road trip could jeopardize the Seals' chances of landing a playoff berth.

Haley's winning goal was his second of the game. He had opened the scoring in the first period on a drive shot.

Vancouver went ahead in the second period on goals by Bob McCusker and Buddy Boone. But Mo Mantha knotted the count a few minutes later, and both teams went scoreless for almost 35 minutes before Haley's deciding goal in overtime.

The Seals open their road trip in Vancouver tomorrow night. They do not return to the Cow Palace until Feb. 12.

Pirates' Vern Law Will Try Comeback

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pittsburgh pitcher Vern Law, who found himself sitting in the wrong seat in the team bus at the same time he was sitting on top of the world, has ended his self-imposed exile from baseball and decided to attempt a comeback.

Law returned his signed 1964 contract to the Pirates during the weekend, ending speculation that he might remain a full time banker and part time fisherman in Meridian, Idaho, after leaving the Pirates in somewhat of a huff last August.

The whole situation began on Sept. 25, 1960, the day the Pirates clinched their first National League pennant in 33 years. Law, largely responsible for the flag with a 20-victory season, was the target of one of the more careless celebrants.

The prankster tried to pull Law's shoe off. Only he neglected to untie the lace. And Law wound up with a twisted ankle.

"It bothered me the whole World Series, and pitching with an unnatural motion caused my arm to go sore," said Law. It also caused his career to go sour.

Law was 3-4 in 1961, climbed to 10-7 in 1962, then last season was 4-5 with a 4.95 earned run average when Manager Danny Murtaugh called him aside in early August and said:

"Rather than lose the respect and dignity you have had over the last several years, I'd rather see you retire."

Law agreed, but he was reluctant, and miffed.

When the new contract came, Law signed it, and decided to get back on the right foot—with the Pirates, at least. Attached to the contract was a note for General Manager Joe Brown. It said simply:

"My sincere thanks to you, Joe."

First baseman Orlando Cepeda of the San Francisco Giants made 21 errors last season to finish last in fielding among the National League first sackers.

Move Over, Lou—Read About a Nocturnal Journey Into Nausea

FORE!

I've suffered through probably tens of thousands of words and thousands of column inches of the literary (?) efforts of my General Manager, much like many of you. I've shuddered each month when our statement from the I-J came, opened the envelope fearfully, and with quiet resignation passed it on to our accounts payable girl. I've even signed Lou's checks, each time in silent hope that he might yet remember I'm paying him primarily in the rather naive notion I hired a manager instead of a frustrated Thomas Wolfe.

The frightening aspect of Lou's stubborn diversion is that, like you good people, I never know what he's written until it appears right here in this space. Can't you imagine what a monumental exposure this can be? Much like shaking a hand grenade for 61 seconds after the pin has been pulled. So far, most thankfully, no one has come up to me and punched me in the nose after reading one of his columns. On the other hand, no one has come up to congratulate me for having the foresight to hire such a wit, either.

So, Lou, you just get back to that plush office of yours (I must have really gotten soft to let him get away with that! But that's another story), and Doug Cowan will take over this spot a time or two. There's no point in pouting. I haven't gotten completely soft.

Those who know me realize I have two particular facets which are easily identifiable. One is my passion for golf, a game which affords a challenge as formidable as it is different from the daily challenge of the automobile business. The other is the curse of insomnia. The only possible benefit I have derived from this affliction is the ease at which I can keep Lou and all the other Managers at Ames Ford off balance by beating them to work by a good five hours, time enough to have their day all laid out for them.

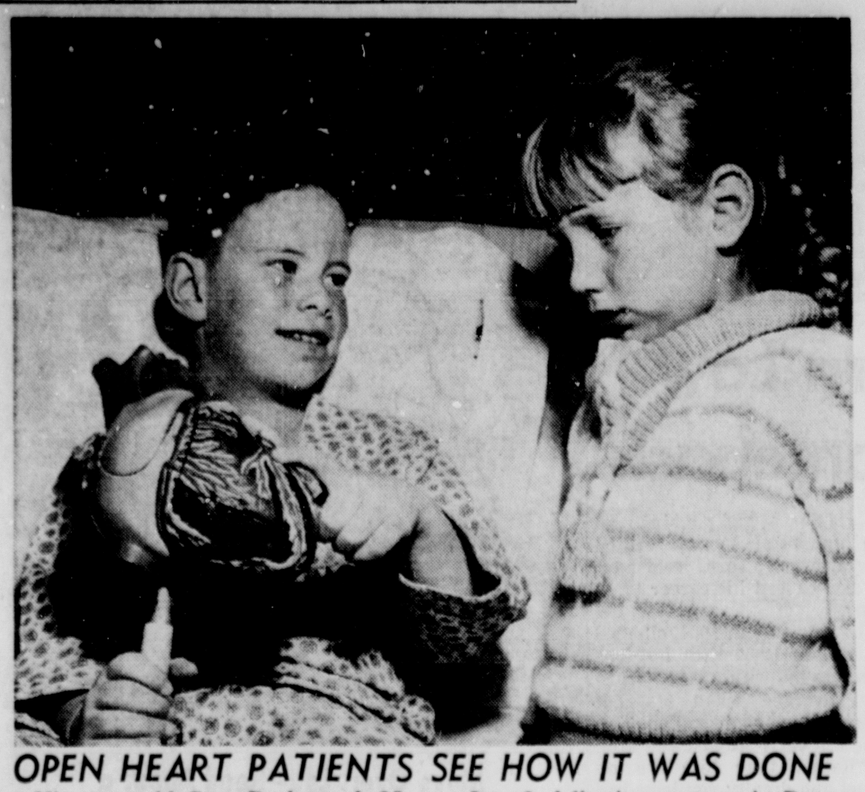

But, what of the hours before I get to Ames Ford? These I spend in a repetitious state of nausea watching and listening to the army of baloney-peddlers, who interrupt the late, late or the early, late shows every five minutes, and try to make you believe they are actually selling automobiles. Not on your life! Henry Ford never built a car like that. What they're selling is baloney, and not pure at that. All that is missing is the straw hat and apron.

The screechings of these suede-shoe hucksters are fantastic! Regretably, enough naive listeners, in the inevitable search for something for nothing, continue to respond to the promises of give-aways—free tires, free batteries, free brakes—no money down, no payments 'til who knows when. Stick around. One of them is bound to offer a free cancer cure with every car.

You won't find these wild claims at Ames Ford. We're here to make a profit on every car—a legitimate profit. And, you'll find even with a profit for us, you will buy that same car for less money—every time.

Lou, this wasn't too difficult. Only trouble is, I've got more to say on this subject, so I'm afraid I'll need the next column, too.

(Lou's Note: I had a hunch Doug had a yen to take over this column. I couldn't finagle him into letting me tell his story. Without this column, I might get to be dispensable. Oh, woe!)

OPEN HEART PATIENTS SEE HOW IT WAS DONE

Nine-year-old Gary Becker of 85 Golden Hinde Boulevard, San Rafael, shows a plastic model of heart to Kim Chapin, 8, of Santa Venetia. Both children experienced open heart surgery in recent weeks at Children's Hospital in San Francisco. Kim has been attending Gallinas School since Jan. 6, following surgery in December, and Gary expects to return to school in two weeks. Defects in his heart were repaired by surgery Jan. 8. The youngsters' operations were the result of heart research during the past 10 years, according to the Marin County Heart Assn., whose 1964 fund drive begins in February.

San Rafael General Plan Discussion Due

The San Rafael General Plan, prepared by consultants Dan Coleman and William Spangle, will be presented to the San Rafael Planning Commission at its meeting at city hall at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

After studying the plan, commissioners will set dates for public hearings.

Planning commissioners also will consider granting a use permit for a home for girls of high school age at 1634 Fifth Avenue.

The Marin Foundation of Friends of Arequipa plans to operate the home for girls who otherwise might be placed at juvenile hall through no fault of their own. From six to eight girls are expected to live at the home.

Commissioners will consider a request by Pell Development Co. for rezoning of 15 acres in the Terra Linda Highlands, northwest of Oleander Drive along Orchard Drive, from unclassified to planned community district.

The controversial rezoning of 82 acres between Nova Albion and Northgate Drive, Terra Linda, sought by the Draper Companies, has been scheduled for the Feb. 4 commission meeting.

Also on the agenda is architectural approval for six apartment buildings as follows:

A 19-unit building at 101 Nova Albion Way and a 13-unit building at 865 Gallinas Avenue, sought by E. T. Komstheoft; a 10-unit building on Bayview Street, between Bayview and D Street, and a 6-unit building on Clark Street, north of Bayview, both sought by Ribeiro and Watson; a 4-unit building on Park Street, north of Belle Avenue, sought by Paul Lacoste; and a 3-unit building at the northeast corner of C and Elford streets, sought by Mrs. Dallett Rueger.

ENTOMOLOGIST—Dr. Edward Ross of Mill Valley will speak on his travels in Asia at the annual meeting of directors of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the museum.

Mill Valley Man To Tell Of Trip Through Asia

Dr. Edward Ross of Mill Valley, curator of the Department of Entomology att he California Academy of Sciences, will give an illustrated talk about his Asian trip at the annual meeting of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum, San Rafael, at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the museum.

Under the topic "Naturalists Across Tropical Asia," Ross will tell of a 34,000-mile, 18-month motor trip across India, Pakistan, Nepal, Malaya and Thailand and Australia.

David Cavagnaro, a graduate of Tamalpais High School, now entomology student at the University of California at Davis doing field work in the Galapagos Islands, was a member of the party on the Asian trip.

Ross also was accompanied by his wife and his 12-year-old son, Clark.

The trip was the latest of a series he is making throughout the tropics to gather specimens for a world monograph of the Embioptera, an obscure order of insects related to termites

A film about the museum, done by the Latham Foundation, will be shown. The film is scheduled to be distributed to 88 countries.

Redwood Empire Assn. Starts Big Ad Drive

A nationwide campaign to advertise Redwood Empire attractions in 1964 was launched this week by the nine-county Redwood Empire Assn.

With publicity, billboards and magazine ads, REA aims to attract even more than 1963's estimated four million visitors, said president Robert A. Trombetta of Santa Rosa.

Space is being contracted in such publications as Sunset, McCall's, Westways and Motorland magazines; a new and enlarged REA "wayside" folder is in production; special releases already are appearing in metropolitan newspapers and major magazines, and many travel editors have been introduced to the Redwood Empire, Trombetta reported.

The campaign is keyed to the theme of "What You Like To Do Most You Can Do Best in the Redwood Empire."

Ads picturing regional attractions will begin in the March issues of Sunset, Motorland and Westways, continuing through October.

REA's annual billboard schedule will include renewals on giant all-year painted bulletins north of Salinas on Highway 101 and along Highway 99 north of Grants Pass.

The association's annual "wayside" folder, 40 pages of maps and points-of-interest listing nearly 600 members this year, will be off the presses in March. In a few days, REA's annual "Calendar of Events," listing fairs, festivals, sports and similar doings, will be sent out.

Trips into several counties last November have resulted in stories on the Mendocino Coast, Scotia, the redwoods, and Sausalito-Tiburon in the Los Angeles Times; and on Fort Ross, Sonoma and Muir Woods in syndicated travel columns. Several foreign editors have been guided to Jack London State Park and the wine country.

In addition, illustrated REA releases already are appearing on the new Mendocino Pass recreation area; sideroads in Humboldt County; the Oregon Caves, Clear Lake, the art colony at Mendocino, Lake Berryessa, Fort Ross, the Golden Gate Bridge, and jetboats on the Rogue and Klamath. REA articles on Chinese New Year's in San Francisco appeared last week in a Southern California magazine and an Oregon motoring publication.

Petition Will Seek To Ban Pay Television

A Greenbrae resident, A. C. Childhouse, has received a title from the state attorney's general's office for an initiative petition to prohibit pay television in California.

Childhouse, of 61 Via Belardo, made application for the title as president of the California Crusade for Free TV. He said purpose of the statewide group in attempting to get the issue on the November election ballot is to "preserve free television for the people of California."

"Our primary purpose is to alert the people of the state to the situation that paid television will create, in that it will eventually mean the end of free television," he said.

Petition signatures totaling 468,259 must be obtained to qualify for balloting. Childhouse said gathering of signatures will start Feb. 1.

The president, who is also executive vice president of United California Theaters, readily admitted that business motives were also involved.

"There is no question that pay television would hurt the theater business, but it is not a question of survival—though of course we have a selfish interest in seeing that we remain in business—but that our interests also parallel those of the public," he said.

Drake Elects New Student Body Officers

Fifty per cent of the students at Sir Francis Drake High School turned out last week to elect student body officers for the spring semester.

Michael Crabtree, unopposed, was elected president. He is the son of Mrs. Marfy Crabtree, 1161 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow. As president, he promises to "strengthen the representative assembly" and improve the role of student government.

Michael Elizabeth Holland of Fairfax was elected vice president. Other candidates were Mimi Fogerty of San Anselmo, Tina Baldwin of Mill Valley and Jim Ratcliff of San Anselmo.

Carolyn Hughes of San Rafael was elected secretary without opposition. Steve Schultz of San Anselmo was elected treasurer over Laura Gavre and Libbie Doucet, both of San Anselmo.

Class officers elected for the spring semester are:

Senior Class — Mike Kemp of Fairfax, president; Cindy Dunning of Fairfax, vice president; Margaret Kazibwe, exchange student from Uganda living in San Anselmo, secretary and Pat Bullwinkle of Fairfax, treasurer.

Junior Class — Andy Morse of San Anselmo president; Tina Press of San Anselmo, vice president; Diane Curtis of Fairfax, secretary and Joan Mitchell of San Anselmo, treasurer.

Sophomore Class — Bill Ingram of Fairfax, president; Sue Travis of San Anselmo, vice president; Sally Lloyd of San Anselmo, secretary and Norm Meister of Lagunitas, treasurer.

Freshman Class — Glenn Moriwaki of San Anselmo, president; Mark Rasmussen of Lagunitas, vice president; Kim Evje of San Anselmo, secretary, and Linda Gillespie of Fairfax, treasurer.

The freshmen had the biggest voting turn-out, with 52 per cent. Sophomores and juniors followed with 43 per cent each, and 41 per cent of the senior class voted.

Marin Ferry To Be Made Into Offices

The Klamath, an old steam ferryboat, that shuttled commuters between San Rafael and Richmond for 18 years, is to be converted into an office "building."

She carried passengers across the bay from 1938 until 1956 when she was supplanted by the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

Idle since 1956, the Klamath was purchased recently by Walter Landor, an industrial designer, for $12,000 at a bankruptcy sale.

Landor plans to convert the ferry into an office to house the affiliated firms of Walter Landor and Associates. At present, the Klamath is anchored off San Carlos Airport, scheduled to sail into a Redwood City marina for remodeling. At the same time negotiations are under way to find a permanent berth for the converted craft.

The Klamath was launched Dec. 27, 1924 at the Bethlehem Shipbuilding yards in Oakland. She and her sister ships, the El Paso and the New Orleans, were built for the Southern Pacific Co.

The trio was purchased by the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry and Transportation Co. in 1938 and put in service between Richmond and San Rafael.

Blood Donors Given Thanks

Appreciation for 75 blood donors who responded to a recent request by James K. Garner, 34-year-old Strawberry vocational psychologist, was expressed yesterday.

Garner, a hemophiliac who has used more than 2,500 pints of blood since stricken with the disease, asked for the donations last December. ". . . Although I have had to request donations over and over again," he wrote, "I have never been rebuffed. I think this speaks extremely well of the quality of people we have in this area."

Coordinating Teacher Plan Before Dixie School Board

Trustees of the Dixie School District will meet in a special adjourned meeting tonight to discuss further Supt. Dennie B. Willis' suggestion for designating one teacher in each of the district's schools as a coordinating teacher.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the administration office, 35 Trellis Drive.

Under the plan, such a teacher would work a full year, rather than the usual nine months, serving as a demonstration teacher in the summer school program and as a leader for curriculum planning the rest of the year, in addition to regular classroom work.

The board will also review the district's program for the seventh and eighth grades where each class has a homeroom teacher for at least three out of seven class periods a day, rather than changing teachers for each subject.

Formal action will be taken on a policy on travel to conferences by district trustees and employees. The policy, establishing which trips could be authorized, had been approved several months ago.

The board will discuss sending representatives to the conference of the Assn. for Supervision of Curriculum Development and will consider the proposed hiring of a consultant to revamp the district's filing system.

European Art Gallery Opens In San Rafael

A new art gallery—devoted to the work of new European artists—opened yesterday in San Rafael.

The Musee d'Art International, located next to Dominic's Harbor Restaurant at 507 Francisco Boulevard, is the latest enterprise of restaurant owners and builders Herbert A. Crocker and William H. McDevitt.

Paintings obtained in Europe by Crocker, McDevitt and George Balkind, an American attorney who lives in Paris, will be featured at the museum. The works of "rising contemporary European artists" will be shown at the gallery, said Crocker, who started the collection two years ago when he was building an apartment building in Lausanne, Switzerland.

About 60 paintings were on display yesterday at the opening reception, to which nearly 500 persons were invited.

Creating A Home Atmosphere

PAINTING WHITE over dark will require two coats, finds Mrs. Robert M. Eschen Jr. of Greenbrae, who doesn't mind the hard work. The painting has been continuing the last few weeks and was preceded by cleaning and sandpapering. The interior of the house will be completely redone when the home opens next month. Arequipa has had the advice and encouragement of the Probation and Social Welfare Departments on its undertaking.

By BARBARA HOSMER

"We were tired of giving a little money to this and that cause . . . we wanted a project of our own. So we went and asked the county, "What do you need more than anything?'"

The result is the brown shingled two story house on Fifth Avenue in San Rafael which will open early next month as a home established for up to six Marin girls who otherwise would be kept at Juvenile Hall without sufficient justification.

THE "WE" is the Marin Foundation, Friends of Arequipa, an organization of some 300 Marin housewives, with their president, Mrs. Jacob Lindenbaum of San Rafael, as their spokesman.

Girls to be cared for, says Arequipa, will be those with few family ties and no personal resources but able to attend the public schools. They would not require institutional care, but because of past experiences cannot fit into a family home.

The Arequipa women have undertaken to establish the home in the interests of the county and to keep it running as their single continuing project.

"IT'S A HUGE project," admits Mrs. Lindenbaum, but the members have taken ahold with new enthusiasm, she says.

They obtained the four bedroom house at Fifth and G streets about three months ago on a year's lease from Dr. Robert W. Pearce, D.C., who maintains offices next door and owns the adjoining property.

Work began just before Christmas — the nine units pitching in to totally refurbish the spacious old house into a pleasant and homelike setting.

"The idea is to have the place as much like a normal home as possible," Mrs. Lindenbaum explained.

EACH unit has undertaken a room to re-do, and you can see the women scraping and painting daily atop ladders or down on their knees, or brushing a coat on detailed window frames.

IT'S HARD WORK with no glamor, and it's unlikely that many would tackle such ambitious jobs in their own homes. But the volunteers are inspired by the way the old place has taken on a lightness as their off-white paint goes over the dark surfaces, and with a second coat they expect the whole to be finished in a week or so.

NEXT come the furnishings —things they've collected among themselves and some of the furnishings the county has donated from the Lucas Valley home.

"People have been marvelous about giving things. Even the outsiders who have heard about the project have given us things and now the Marin Society of Artists has offered to lend us paintings to decorate the walls," Mrs. Lindenbaum said.

MUCH of the plumbing and fixtures had to be renovated or replaced, and several members have volunteered. In memory of his late wife, who was an Arequipa member vitally interested in the new home, a Mill Valley man has donated all new fixtures for modernization of the bathroom for the girls' use. The kitchen equipment also had to be throughly cleaned to get the girls off to a good start. They'll be helping with the meals as well as the housework, much as they would in a regular home routine.

Plans call for a resident housekeeper to be there 24 hours a day, and she will have one of the upstairs rooms with private bath. The girls will share the other three rooms and the larger bath.

THE HOME will operate under a license, meeting the necessary requirements, and when they took on the project Arequipa volunteers agreed to make up the financial needs beyond what the county can allow toward each girl's expenses, plus all the furnishings and requirements of the home. A social director will be employed during the day to work with the girls.

The Arequipa organization expects total operation costs to be about $2,354 monthly with the county paying operating expenses estimated at $390 per girl.

SO, EVEN though the home they have set up at their own expense is expected to open in early February, the volnteers' work will never be finished. It's their continuing job month in and month out to see that the home operates as licensed, their way of shouldering social respon-

UPSTAIRS IN what will be one of the bedrooms for the teen-agers, Mrs. Richard Moulthrop of Larkspur takes a brush to the window casement. The Marin Foundation, Friends of Arequipa, members are those who formerly served as an auxiliary unit to the Arequipa tubercular sanitarium for women in Fairfax, which became inoperative several years ago and is now the Girl Scout headquarters in Marin.

INGENUITY invented Duane Smith III's long-armed paint brush for the far out areas over the staircase upstairs. His mother, Mrs. Duane Smith of San Rafael, uses a roller on the walls. Duane's one of the family members of the Arequipa volunteers who have been lending their muscle power to the project. At right is the brown-shingled house during a work day, with the nine units from throughout the county joining in. Working here are Mesdames Harold B. Wagstaff of Corte Madera, upper story; W. H. Ecker of Greenbrae, D. C. McGowan of San Rafael and Robert J. Dreher of Greenbrae. The painting goes fast, the volunteers find, because other members sanded and prepared the surfaces several days before.

IN THE front room, which has pleasant windows and a fireplace, Mrs. Joseph Christopher of Greenbrae kneels to do a window sill, while (not shown) other volunteers on ladders roll fresh paint across the ceiling.

Buddy System For Withdrawal--

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

If you make a deal with your husband to go through the agonies of cigarette withdrawal together, both of you will have a better chance of shaking the dangerous habit.

The buddy system has been found to be most effective among the thousands who jammed the auditoriums at Hunter College campus in New York recently for the National Health Foundation's five-day How To Stop Smoking course.

AS WITH ALCOHOLICS, fellow cigarette sufferers understand each other's tensions and are sympathetic. They can fight their problem together, and they can check up on each other.

But even though you are a non-smoker, you as a wife can still play an important role in winning your husband away from the weed. Dr. Catherine Hess and Dr. Elman Folkenberg agree.

Dr. Hess is assistant health commissioner for New York City and is in charge of the free citywide cigarette withdrawal clinics which are to open in April.

Elman Folkenberg, of South Lancaster, Mass. devised the program with Dr. J. Wayne McFarland and directs it. The 42-year-old psychologist is minister of a Seventh Day Adventist Church.

THEY SUGGEST:

Your attitude is important. Above all, don't be holier than he. Don't nag him. Let the decision to quit be his alone and his to maintain.

Don't hide the cigarettes. That is his prerogative. Some men like to put them on the mantel where they can thumb their noses at them, or carry them in their pockets as reassurance of their willpower. But you might put away the ashtrays. Protect him from as many problems as possible for the first five days. He is jumpier than usual. Run interference with the kids, the bill collectors, and the inlaws.

SERVE LIGHTER FOODS, a liquid diet of fruit juices the first day, and plenty of fruit juices thereafter.

The glucose intake in the juices reduce the craving for fattening sweets.

Avoid highly spiced foods. These are too stimulating to the nervous system.

CUT OUT THE COFFEE. Although coffee itself is not necessarily harmful, the coffee-and-a-cigarette habit is. Help him to break the long established pattern by removing the other half of the team.

"Give him a lot of water to drink," says Dr. Hess. "Did you ever see a man reach for a cigarette to drink with water.

Put on your walking shoes and take some of those brisk walks which he needs to work off his tension. You'll lose some tension, too.

Turn the television on, or provide some other entertainment after dinner to keep his mind off his big problem.

APPRECIATE THAT it is a big problem which he is trying to lick. "And," says psychologist Folkenberg, "encourage, encourage, encourage him every step of the way!" (AP)

Too Small A Machine Stitch May Pucker Seams In Velvet

By EUNICE FARMER

"What makes the seams in velvet pucker?"—Mrs. W.E.

Dear Mrs. W.E.:

I would say that there are two reasons your seams in velvet are puckering. First, you are probably using too small a stitch. Try using about 10 stitches per inch. Secondly, the tension on your machine might be too tight. If your seams still pucker after you have lengthened the stitch, try loosening the tension. Also, the pressure bar should be raised slightly so that there is less pressure placed on this pile type fabric.

"Is it necessary to back stitch when you begin a seam in order to keep it from ripping?—Mrs. M.E.L.:

Dear Mrs. M.E.L.:

Ordinarily, if your sewing machine is properly adjusted, it is not necessary to back stitch or secure your stitching when you sew your seams. If your stitches would rip out, the tension on your machine is probably too loose.

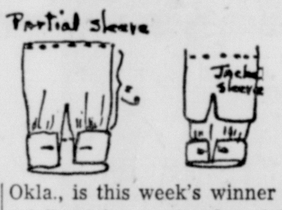

Remember, whenever your pattern tells you to stitch only to some special marking on your garment (and not to continue to the edge) you must secure this stitching or it will pull out before you can continue with the construction.

Here's a terrific tip for all mothers-to-be. Go ahead and make your Easter suit as Easter is so early this year. You'll get a lot of wear out of it.

Make two skirt fronts, one, using a regular maternity pattern, the other, using your regular skirt pattern. After the baby is here, just change the skirt panels and no one is the wiser.

You may also try making a skirt with two large inverted pleats in front, these can be left unstitched at the waistline for extra ease. Later, just stitch in place, attach a new waistband and you'll be ready to go again.

Mrs. A. F. Slankard, Tulsa, Okla., is this week's winner of a tailor trix pressing board for this suggestion.

Mrs. C. says that to solve the problem of the slip showing under the short overblouses, dye an old white slip to match the skirt; it will hardly be noticeable if the blouse slips up.

"The sleeveless overblouses are so comfortable to wear with suits that I hope the style never changes. However, I also like the look of the long sleeves that extend below the edge of the jacket. Would it be too crazy if I suggested making a false cuff on the sleeve to be attached to the jacket sleeve?"—Mrs. H.E.E.

Dear Mrs. H.E.E.:

You're right about the long-cuffed sleeves giving a new and sophisticated look to our garments. There is a way that these can be attached to your garment and no one but you will be the wiser.

1. Use any blouse pattern that calls for cuffs, either French or the single cuffs. Use only the lower six inches of the sleeve, plus the cuffs. Construct as if you were making the entire sleeve. Finish the top raw edge of these sleeves by turning over and machine stitching.

2. Finish the lower edge of your jacket sleeve with a 1½-inch turned hem or make a separate facing. If you like the slit in the hem of the sleeve like the one illustrated (which would be at the same place as the opening of the cuff) this can easily be done with any pattern.

3. Slip stitch the partial sleeve to the inside of your jacket sleeve, catching to the lining only.

You will find there are countless variations you can make with this idea. You can make several partial sleeves to match your overblouses, or just to match a scarf at the neck if you prefer. If you intend changing them often, you may care to snap them to the sleeve lining instead of hand sewing them in.

Chanel jacket: This is a cardigan type, collarless, unfitted, jacket designed by the French designer Chanel. Her original jacket had four patch pockets and usually was braid trimmed. This year she has included blazer type jackets to her collections.

This shocking statement comes from an authority on physical fitness—after studying more than 50,000 individuals. Why this early physical decline? Lack of activity—not enough vigorous daily exercise. Today, our children risk all the hazards of easy living. Right now, in fact, one third of them are unable to pass simple physical achievement tests. FASHIONS FROM FLORENCE

April Date For Wedding

An April 4 wedding at the Presidio Chapel in San Francisco is being planned by Barbara Louise Lunny of Honolulu and Capt. Donald Joseph Traver, who is stationed with the Army at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James William Lunny of Larkspur. She attended Marin Catholic High School and the College of Marin.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Traver of Pughkeepsie, N.Y. He was graduated from Arlington High School there and Siena College in Londonville, N.Y.

Check Socks For Feet's Sake

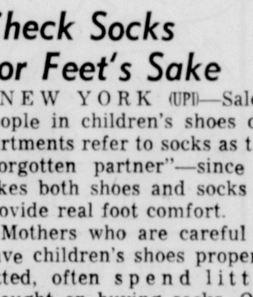

NEW YORK (UPI)—Salespeople in children's shoes departments refer to socks as the "forgotten partner"—since it takes both shoes and socks to provide real foot comfort.

Mothers who are careful to have children's shoes properly fitted, often spend little thought on buying socks. One important point to keep in mind: after the first washing, socks should be one-half-inch longer than the child's longest toe.

Don't guess about proper fit. Salespeople know how to determine sock size by the size of the shoe. From then on, check from time to time to determine whether your child's feet are getting ahead of the sock length.

Also remember that a normal youngster's activity is hard on his feet. A sudsy foot bath every day and frequent changes to freshly laundered socks will add to both foot comfort and health.

'American Family' To Be Meet Topic

"The American Family in a changing world" is the topic for tomorrow's general meeting of the Mill Valley Branch of the American Assn. of University Women. It will be held at 8 p.m. in the parish hall of the Mill Valley Community Church.

Mrs. Charles A. Murphy, second vice president and program chairman, will serve as moderator for a panel composed of Mrs. Wendell D. Ames, area chairman for this study of the American family, and Mrs. David B. Symonds. They will report on the symposium sponsored by the University of California over the weekend in the man and civilization series.

The specific topic they will report on was "The Family's Search for Survival: Is the Family Necessary?"

Following the symposium report, panelists will present some of the problems which have been discussed during monthly meetings of the study group. These included juvenile delinquency, school drop-outs, moral issues of today as they affect the family, young unmarried mothers and illegitimacy and the population explosion.

The evening's topic is one of four areas of study designated by the national AAUW. The others are: "Bridging the Gap Between Science and the Layman," "Expectation for Education," and "Occident and Orient." Each will be presented in a program in forthcoming general meetings.

Mrs. Russell E. Wallace, first vice president and membership chairman, urges all women who are eligible for membership and who are interested in becoming members of the Mill Valley Branch to attend the meeting. Or they may attend a meeting of the study section of Feb. 19 at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. David B. Symonds, 501 Main St., Sausalito.

SMART, PRACTICAL FURNISHINGS SET TO APPEAR ON HOME FRONT

By MARGERY McELHENY

CHICAGO (UPI) — Home furnishings that will start appearing in stores next spring will be elegant and practical.

Furniture buyers from all the nation's stores placed their orders at the recent Inter-Show here. The emphasis continued on plush fabrics and elegant styles.

There were no outstanding design changes at the market, but pieces incorporated many useful features such as extra drawers, divided compartments in the dressers and desks, and glass panels on the side of china cabinets as well as the front.

One dresser has a separate drawer imprinted for each day of the week, so Dad will not have to search through stacks of various clothes to coordinate his shirt, socks, tie and handkerchief.

Many manufacturers have added casters to heavy occasional tables, chairs and sofas to make it easier for a woman to change room arrangement.

Reclining chairs have taken on the look of a fine piece of furniture. They are scaled down and upholstered in materials that easily could go into a modern, colonial or French provincial room.

Other chairs have rockers or swivel attachments, and most show a trend toward deeper, plush cushioning.

New finishes for wood furniture give protection from children or careless guests, yet blend quietly into the wood with no sheen to hint at their plastic origin.

A MARCH wedding in Bolinas is planned by Sharon Lynn McKinney and John J. Santos. (Booth photo)

Sharon McKinney's Betrothal To John Santos Announced

Announcing the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Lynn McKinney, to John J. Santos are Mr. and Mrs. R. Warren McKinney of Bolinas.

Sharon was graduated from Tamalpais High School and Pacific Union College nursing program. She is a nurse at Marin General Hospital.

The future bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Santos of Mill Valley and he is the grandson of Mrs. John Collins of Mill Valley and the late Mr. Collins.

He attended Marin Catholic High School and the College of Marin and is resident deputy with the Marin County Sheriff's office at Bolinas. Formerly he was employed by the California Dept. of Fish and Game.

The couple plans to wed March 8 at Mary Magdalen Church in Bolinas.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Jan. 21, day of 1964 with 339 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phrase.

The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1862, President Abraham Lincoln issued general war order no. 1 instructing northern army and naval forces to be ready to make their first moves in the Civil War.

In 1880, Thomas Edison was granted a patent for an electric incandescent lamp.

In 1943, the U. S. Eighth Air Force staged World War II's first All-American Air raid on Germany, bombing Wilhelmshaven in broad daylight.

In 1962, a U.S. Ranger spacecraft missed the moon by 22,000 miles.

A thought for the day—Abraham Lincoln once said: "Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Postpone Finesse To Test Safety When Playing Game

In some hands your contract seems to depend on guessing which opponent has a key queen.

Should you finesse through your left-hand or through your right-hand opponent? While you're asking yourselves questions don't forget to wonder when to take the finesse.

Opening lead — ♡ 8

After winning the opening trump lead, South thought of leading a spade, ruffing a spade, and then trying the club finesse.

SPADE TRICK

This would be dangerous if dummy were out of trumps, for the defenders might get the queen of clubs and a second spade trick.

To avoid this danger, South tried a club finesse at the second trick, losing the jack to East's queen. East promptly returned a trump.

Declarer won in dummy and led a spade, but East stepped up with the king of spades to lead a third trump. Now South couldn't ruff a spade in dummy. He eventually had to give up a spade, going down one trick.

WRONG TIME

South thought he had finessed in the wrong direction, but the fact was that he had finessed at the wrong time. Declarer should lead a spade at the second trick.

If East wins and returns a trump, declarer wins in dummy after noting that West is out of trumps. This makes it safe to lead a club from dummy and finesse with the jack.

Even if West were able to win the trick he could not stop declarer from ruffing a spade in dummy, after which South would have an easy time.

EASY TIME

South would have just as easy a time if West (instead of East) had three trumps. Then West would win the second trick in order to return a trump.

South should win, noting that East had no more trumps. Hence South would lead the jack of clubs for a finesse, letting it ride to East.

The idea is to give up a spade trick and find out which opponent is out of trumps. Then the club finesse can be taken safely toward that opponent.

QUESTION

♡ K 8 7 6
♦ J 6 5 3

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three hearts.

This jump shows strong trump support, with 13 to 16 points counting distribution. In this case you have 10 points in high cards and 3 points for the singleton.

MATURITIES: Said bonds mature serially in consecutive numerical order from lower to higher (without option of prior redemption) as follows:

PAYMENT: Both principal and interest payable in lawful money of the United States at the San Francisco Main Office of Bank of America, National Trust and Savings Association in the City and County of San Francisco, State of California, or at the option of the holder at the respective offices of the paying agents of said County in the City of New York, State of New York, or in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois.

REGISTRATION: Coupon bonds will be issued by said Board of Supervisors on behalf of said School District. Such bonds are registrable only as to both principal and interest.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Said bonds were authorized by more than two-thirds of the voters voting at an election held in said District on March 1, 1960 and will be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for authorized school purposes.

SECURITY: The bonds are general obligations of said School District, and said Board of Supervisors has power and is obligated to levy ad valorem taxes for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon upon all property within said School District, subject to taxation by said School District (except certain intangible personal property, which is taxable at limited rates), without limitation of rate or amount.

TAX EXEMPT STATUS: In the event that prior to the delivery of the bonds the income received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be declared to be taxable under any Federal Income Tax laws, either by the terms of such laws or by ruling of a Federal Income Tax authority or official which is followed by the Internal Revenue Service or by the decision of any Federal Court, the successful bidder may at his option prior to the tender of said bonds by the Board of Supervisors, be relieved of his obligation under the contract to purchase the bonds, and in such case, the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

LEGAL OPINION: The legal opinion of the following firm, approving the validity of said bonds, will be furnished to the successful bidder without charge: Orrick, Dahlquist, Herrington and Sutcliffe of San Francisco, California. A copy of the legal opinion certified by the official in whose office the original is filed will be printed on each bond at the expense of the successful bidder if requested in his bid.

TERMS OF SALE

HIGHEST BIDDER: The bonds will be awarded to the highest responsible bidder or bidders considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid (if any) from the total amount of interest which the District would be required to pay from the date of said bonds to the respective maturity dates thereof at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid and the award will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the district. The lowest net interest cost shall be computed on a 360-day year basis. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the district.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: Said Board of Supervisors reserves the right in its discretion to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

PROMPT AWARD: The Board of Supervisors will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for receipt of proposals; provided that the award may be made after the expiration of the specified time if the bidder shall not have given the Board of Supervisors notice in writing of the withdrawal of such proposal.

PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the County Treasurer of said County as soon as the bonds can be prepared, which it is estimated will be within 30 days from the day of sale.

RIGHT OF CANCELLATION: The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 60 days from the date of sale thereof, and in such event, the successful bidder shall be entitled to the return of the deposit accompanying his bid.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale, and for not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest to date of delivery. Such bids, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Board of Supervisors of said County, and endorsed "Proposal for School Bonds of San Rafael High School District of Marin County."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $2,000.00, drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the County Treasurer, to secure said school district from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. In addition, bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the district on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the district. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by the successful bidder.

There is no controversy or litigation pending or threatened concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of said district or the title of the officers to their respective offices and the Board of Supervisors will deliver to the successful bidder a no-litigation certificate certifying to the foregoing as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.

Dated: January 7, 1964.

County Clerk and Ex-Officio Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, California.

Royalties Are Political Fodder In Brazil

By H. STUART MORRISON

RIO DE JANEIRO (WPS) — One of Brazil's biggest economic headaches is royalties, fast becoming a demogogic catchword for nationalist politicians.

The fact is that Brazil's fantastic industrial expansion during the past decade has been made possible by foreign investments on which Brazil must pay royalties, and she does not have the dollar resources to make the payments.

Though Brazilians hate to concede it, virtually all the inventions she uses—including industrial inventions — come from hard-currency countries.

A good example is Brazil's automotive industry, which is already producing exportable autos and parts to other Latin American nations.

The carburetors, magnetos, spark plugs, windshield wipers, etc. have been invented and patented abroad. True, the original inventors no longer hold the patent rights, having sold them either outright or on a profit-sharing basis to the American, German, French, Italian, English and Dutch companies which maintain subsidiary factories here.

This gives Brazil's anti-capitalist politicians an excuse for spitting verbal fire at the so-called "international cartels" and "foreign monopolies" which, they charge, are soaking up Brazil's "sweat-earned" profits like sponges.

Actually, Brazil is presently enjoying an unofficial moratorium on the payment of foreign royalties, also on the return of profits to foreign investors.

This results from more than a year's delay in announcing the regulations being set up under the new law on repatriation of capital and profits. More than 15,000 applications for return of profits to American and European countries of origin are awaiting action in the government's files.

That action, in turn, is awaiting publication of the actual regulations under which such remissions can be made. At present no one knows what these regulations are.

The government is in no hurry to announce them because once the regulations are made public and go into effect, Brazil's "unofficial moratorium" will come to an end. Then Brazil will face an even greater and more dangerous dollar shortage.

One example of the dependence of Brazilian industry on foreign capital and foreign inventions is the pharmaceutical industry.

This is Brazil's third largest "light industry," and produces everything from cough drops to "miracle" drugs. They are all under patent rights, of course, and almost all under foreign trade marks which have become world famous and which provide another "royalty" tap.

More than 85 per cent of Brazil's pharmaceutical laboratories are subsidiaries of foreign companies. American drug houses lead, with the Dutch, French and German following.

Although the government launched a "nationalization campaign" recently in an effort to "Brazilianize" the pharmaceutical industry by appealing to Brazilian capitalists to invest in it, the only net result was that one more native pharmaceutical house found it more profitable to sell out to an American drug manufacturer than to face the competition.

But it is the problem of royalties, as such, which has caught the fancy of the politicians, and even the man-in-the-street is popularizing the cant that if only Brazil did not have to pay such big royalties to the greedy foreigners "we, the people" could live better.

No one mentions, of course, that royalties work both ways.

Brazilian inventors are clamoring for governmental subsidies because without such financing they do not possess the means to invent anything. And they complain that Brazilian capitalists just will not risk a dime on a new invention.

They cite the classic example of the Brazilian naval officer who invented a guidance system for warships. For years he cooled his heels in the outer offices of Brazil's Admiralty. His plans gathered dust in Navy files. He could not get a "Yes" or a "No".

When World War II erupted, he took his invention to the North Americans.

It was tested, found worthy, and became one of the Allies' most efficient and useful inventions in anti-submarine warfare. The Brazilian inventor became a millionaire almost overnight.

Ari Barroso, Brazil's outstanding musical composer, is another millionaire — not only from Hollywood royalties on his compositions used in American movies, but also from domestic revenue. His "invention," his music, has won universal recognition and popularity in Brazil too.

However, for some time Ari Barroso complained that the U.S. movie producers were "very slow" in paying him his royalties.

It took him several years to discover that the dollars had been paid promptly enough into the Banco do Brasil — as the law here requires — but that this Brazilian government bank was in no hurry to pay him.

The latest example of a Brazilian who will benefit from foreign royalties is Jorge Amado, author of the novel, "Gabriella, Cloves and Cinnamon."

Translated into English, the book did not "take" in the U.S., and Amado complained loudly about the meager royalties from "those capitalists."

But then he sold the movie rights to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for $100,000 cash in hand.

"And," quipped one movie official, "if MGM ever makes the movie, Jorge Amado will make a million dollars from paperback book sales."

Demos In Good Shape, They Say

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown and a large crowd of Democrats celebrating the 10th anniversary of the California Democratic Council, say the party is in the best shape in recent memory.

Brown said the Democrats were in top shape but urged council members not to become overconfident in the 1964 election year.

Other party leaders at the celebration last night were Sen. Edmund S. Muskie (D-Me.) and Sen. Frank E. Moss (D-Utah).

Entertainment was provided by actors Edward G. Robinson, Jim Backus and others.

Hub City Council To Ask Downtown Land Use Study

The San Anselmo City Council, meeting tomorrow, will consider asking the city planning commission to make a land use study of the downtown area.

Councilmen also are scheduled to receive complaints from residents about truck parking on the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. right-of-way, opposite the Safeway Store on San Anselmo Avenue.

Also on the agenda is a discussion of the garbage collection ordinance. The council approved a 10-year contract with the San Anselmo Garbage Disposal Co. at its last meeting, but will consider revisions so that city police do not have to collect unpaid garbage bills. The council meets at 8 p.m. at city hall.

$400,000 Bond Issue Before Ross Trustees

Resolutions calling for an April 14 election on a $400,000 bond issue and 50-cent increase in the general operating tax rate are expected to be passed by Ross School District trustees in a special 7:30 p. m. meeting today.

Present tax rate is $2.27. The bond funds would include purchase of a school site along Redwood Drive, site work and construction of seven classrooms, and rejuvenation of present Ross School buildings.

Other meeting agenda includes a preliminary budget review for the 1964-65 school year, consideration of a new school year calendar and reports from the superintendent on standardized testing, use of interim reports to parents, mathematics curriculum, and heating system repair.

Armed Robbery Suspect Freed

Joseph Andrew York, 36, Novato house painter, was freed of an armed robbery charge today in Marin Municipal Court after a preliminary hearing.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas ruled there was not enough evidence to link York to the $1,275 holdup of Tamalpais Delicatessen-Liquor Drive-In at 638 Fourth Street in San Rafael on the night of Jan. 4.

Assistant Public Defender Jerome Durham presented witnesses who testified they were with York in a Fourth Street bar at the time of the holdup.

York was arrested shortly after the robbery after police found his car about a block from the scene of the crime.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Falls Second Only To Traffic Mishaps As Cause Of Injury Accidents In U.S.

VAN DELLEN

Slippery sidewalks and icy streets mean a high accident toll. Physicians usually work time and a half during the winter, setting broken bones and taping sprained ankles. Visit any hospital if you doubt this statement. Many of the patients will be out of circulation for months and some will be disabled permanently.

Falls are high on the list of causes of accidents, second only to traffic mishaps. They occur in young and old but are more devastating in the elderly. Individuals over 65 compose less than 10 per cent of our total population but account for 25 per cent of accidental deaths and 20 per cent of serious injuries. The majority are fractures due to falling.

FRACTURED HIPS and legs in our senior citizens present special problems. Many result from fundamental defects in gait or posture. The aged may tumble even when the steps and sidewalks are not dangerous—all the more reason why they should stay home when the streets are icy.

The best preventive is adequate removal of ice and slush from steps, sidewalks and paths. If this cannot be done, sprinkle salt, sand, gravel, or fine cinders over the area.

ABOVE ALL, take it easy when walking. Use handrails going up and down outside stairways. Wear rubbers or overshoes with deeply grooved soles and heels.

There is no such thing is a graceful fall but when slipping on ice, try to relax. Slump or use the roll motion that football players, pole vaulters, and acrobats know so well. The trick is to divide the weight of the body over the hips, thighs, and hands.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

LEG CHANGES

Mrs. M. writes: Do children's bones change as they grow older? My 10-year-old daughter had nice, straight legs up until the last few months. Now the upper part seems to be getting bowed. Need anything be done about this condition?

REPLY

Changes occur but as a rule there is no cause for concern because the legs straighten out with full growth. I assume the girl is eating a balanced diet and is getting adequate exercise.

HALLUCINATIONS

J. D. writes: Is there any permanent cure for hallucinations?

REPLY

This condition usually is associated with a mental disorder. Problems of this nature are best treated with psychotherapy, medication, or shock therapy.

VEGETABLE OILS

W. S. writes: What is your opinion of the safflower oil diets?

REPLY

Several vegetable oils, including safflower oil, are rich in polyunsaturated fatty acids. Any one of these may be recommended to lower a high cholesterol level of the blood.

EXERCISE AFTER SURGERY

C. K. writes: Is it safe to exercise one year after an operation?

REPLY

Yes. I say this even though you neglected to mention what and how much was removed.

Today's Health Hint—Don't waste time wringing your hands.

Since the beginning of the automotive manufacturing industry in the United States in 1896, more than 208 million vehicles have been produced.

Independent-Journal
San Rafael, California
January, 1964

Statement of Policy

Regarding Political Advertising

The Independent-Journal does not aggressively solicit or render copy writing service for political advertisements that are argumentative in content. Political advertisements are construed to be all assertions subject to public controversy, whether or not a public election is involved.

Any political advertisement that is not clearly the personal appeal of the elective candidate or candidates involved must show the name of the sponsoring group together with the name or names of one or more persons officiating for such group and their address.

Political advertisements must be submitted in complete and explicit form, ready for the printers, and clearly marked as to size and date of appearance. All political advertisements are payable in advance. Charges are figured at the regular rate.

Advertising deadlines are 4 p.m., two days preceding publication. As examples: Tuesday advertisements must be in Friday at 4 p.m.; Monday advertisements must be in the preceding Friday morning. Any intervening holiday advances the deadline by a day.

No responsibility to show printer's proof is assumed under the above schedule.

If a proof is desired, advertisement must be submitted substantially in advance. Corrections, if any, must be ordered by 4 p.m., two working days preceding publication. Any changes from original copy will be charged for on basis of printing work involved.

On the last publication day before an election no political advertisement other than a simple statement of advocacy will be printed. As example: "Vote yes on proposition three," or "Elect John Jones," together with facts as to nature and time of election and, if desired, candidate's party affiliation or occupational identity.

Nearing a public election, no advertisement introducing a new controversial subject will be accepted to run later than the fourth publication day preceding the election. If any new statement or issue should be introduced on the fourth publication day preceding the election, attacking the opposing candidate or issue involved, the newspaper may, at its discretion, make allowance under this rule for the opposing side to answer.

Necessity for the newspaper's disinterested handling of political advertisements is readily apparent. These terms and conditions are adhered to in spirit of fairness to all.

Bay Filling Policy Session Slated

A special meeting of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments to help formulate a regional policy on bay fill, moratoriums, and tideland development will held Feb. 6 in Hotel Claremont, Berkeley.

John F. McInnis, mayor of San Rafael and association president, said today the group hopes to "determine a position in the event of passage (by state legislation) of a moratorium, to make the situation more liveable."

PROPOSED BILL

He described moratorium as a legislative order preventing San Francisco Bay fill-in for a certain number of years, and said at present such a proposed bill has been referred to an Assembly interim committee.

McInnis said the moratorium issue could be placed on special call concurrently with the 1964 budget session of the State Legislature, and if done, the association and other persons vitally affected "will need to know how to consider" the proposed legislation.

He said Assemblyman E. L. Z'berg, chairman of the Assembly Interim Committee on Natural Resources, Planning and Public Works has asked Gov. Edmund G. Brown to request a special call legislation which would amend existing tideland grants to prevent the filling of such lands unless it conforms to a regional plan, and which would establish a three-year moratorium on all other tideland filling not covered by grants.

REVIEW BOARD

McInnis, who will be meeting chairman, said if a moratorium is imposed, there should also be a city-county position by ABAG on whether a review board or commission is necessary to review fill applications for hardship cases.

He said type of agency, state appointed or otherwise, should likewise be pre-determined.

The meeting will be forum-type, he said, with representatives present from all nine counties in the bay area, and from many cities.

Marin Jewish Community Center Elects

Morris A. Bode of Terra Linda has been elected president of the Marin Jewish Community Center for 1964, replacing Sol Silver of Sausalito.

Bode served as vice president last year. New first vice president is Maurice J. Koch of San Anselmo. Richard Friedman of Mill Valley was elected second vice president; Dr. Isaac N. Silberman of Mill Valley, secretary; and Lloyd Sankowich of San Rafael, treasurer.

Also elected to the board of directors at the annual meeting were incumbents Mrs. Bernard Blumberg of Greenbrae, Mrs. Sam Hanzel of Kentfield, Julian W. Mack II of Terra Linda, Martin Marks of San Rafael, Samuel M. Shapiro of Tiburon and new directors Don Cohen of Novato, Warren Lefort of Mill Valley, Julius Selinger of Sleepy Hollow and Frederick A. White of Larkspur.

John M. Simontacchi, Naval aviation electronics technician third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Simontacchi of 14 San Francisco Bloulevard, San Anselmo, recently completed a course on maintenance of a submarine detection system at the Naval Air Maintenance Training Detachment, Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Va.

Samuel Taylor Park Fees For Overnight Going Up

Overnight camping fee at Samuel P. Taylor State Park will go up from $1 to $2 per car per night beginning this year, under a new fee schedule set up by the State Park Commission.

The fee for overnight camping at Mount Tamalpais State Park will remain at $1.

In the past, the overnight fee was a straight $1 for all parks and beaches. Studies showed this paid only about 25 per cent of the cost of maintenance and operation.

The new schedule would pay about 33 per cent of the maintenance and operation. It provides a graduated scale of fees depending on the facilities provided.

Taylor Park comes under the Type A campgrounds, which include flush toilets, piped drinking water, hot showers, laundries, campsites with table, stove and cupboard, and surfaced roads. The fee is $2.

Mount Tamalpais State Park is Type C, which provides chemical or pit toilets, campsites in an informal area with table, and central water supply. The fee is $1.

Tam Honor T Changes Planned

By SHELLEY SMITH
Tamalpais High School Student

Progress may break through years of Tamalpais High's tradition soon.

Four changes are proposed for Tamalpais's Honor T. If the honor society's members vote in favor of them, it will be the first time in 15 years any change has been made in the Honor T constitution.

Proposed changes are:

1. That the initiation ceremony be changed. For 15 years it has remained the same, and both students and parents are a bit tired of the two and one-half hour program and the honor theme (which is enhanced each time by candlelight speeches). The ceremony will be made shorter and lengthy speeches dispensed with. It has also been suggested that one guest speaker attend each initiation.

2. That the names of the officers be changed from the unique grand oracle, vice oracle, sentinel, standard bearer, scribe, priestess and assistant priestess to the standard president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. This would also necessitate reducing the number of officers.

3. That the regulations concerning dues and attendance be revised. These regulations have been somewhat ineffective in the past and both officers and members feel they should be enforced.

4. That certain changes be made in the Honor T constitution which would make the preceding three ideas effective. A revised edition of the constitution has been drawn up and will be presented before votes are cast.

The issue will be voted on during next semester, which begins Feb. 3.

Human Relations Award To Kuchel

BEVERLY HILLS (AP) — An award "for outstanding service in the field of human relations" has been given to Thomas H. Kuchel by the Jewish Federation-Council of Greater Los Angeles.

The award was presented yesterday by Superior Judge Isaac Pacht at the group's annual meeting.

Kuchel was commended "for his courageous stand taken in publicly condemning extremists who strive to sow seeds of suspicion and hate among our citizens and government."

Rumfort Act Repeal Hit On Moral Grounds

BERKELEY (AP) — Repeal of the Rumford Act "would be to enthrone injustice and to cast out the hope of millions of our state's citizens," State Controller Alen Cranston said yesterday at a testimonial honoring the act's author.

Cranston said efforts to repeal the act that bans racial discrimination in housing presents California with a "crisis of morality in human relationships."

Four More Marinites Become U.S. Citizens

China-born Lyman Goon Li who fought for the United States in Germany in World War II although a chinese citizen has finally become a citizen of his adopted land.

Li was born in Canton, China, and came to San Francisco in 1939 with his father but under the entry of his grandfather. For that reason he used the name of his grandfather, Goon.

After World War II Goon changed his name from Lyman L. Goon to Gang Lip Lee, his given name. Last month, in connection with his citizenship hearing he changed his name to Lyman Goon Li because, he explained, "There are so many architects in San Francisco named Lee." Li is an architect.

"Lee is the same as Li," said Li. "Most northern Chinese use Li while Cantonese Chinese use Lee." Li lives at 490 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley, with his San Francisco-born wife, Betty, a daughter, Berdine, 4, and a son, Gary, 1. The architect works in San Francisco where he is an associate of Paul Ryan and also has his own practice.

Two other new citizens are from England, both engineers who work for Bechtel Corp., San Francisco. They are John Addington Henslow of 73 Sunrise Avenue, Mill Valley, and Philip Anthony Martinez of 56 Rodeo Avenue, Sausalito.

Henslow, London-Born, is a piping designer, who came to the United States via Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Canada. Single, he has lived seven years in Mill Valley.

He defines his party as independent and notes that English people discuss politics more openly than Americans. Americans get worried about expressing their particular views," said Henslow, who added he thinks they should be a little more tolerant.

Martinez, a civil engineer, met his wife, Jean, in San Francisco when she was flying for Pan American Airways. She is a British citizen. Martinez, who said his father was Spanish, his mother English, has lived in Sausalito four years. The Martinezes have no children.

Mrs. Aurelia Turko, a fourth new citizen was formerly a German citizen and was a secretary in Munich. Her husband, Joseph, is American born and works in civil service at the Presidio of San Francisco. The Turkos, who live at 314 Molino Avenue, met and married in Germany while Turko served in the army. They have no children.

Agreement On Electrical Inspection Code Is Sought

Marin County's chief building inspector, Hans J. Berge, has been meeting with contractors from throughout the area in an attempt to cooperatively hammer out some major changes in the code of electrical inspections.

Many of the changes, which will eventually be proposed to the county board of supervisors, Berge said, are mandatory, required by changes in the state law.

Others, however, merely tighten up local restrictions, or will be a part of a drive Berge has started to make building regulations relatively uniform for the county and the cities within it.

One major change which has been agreed to, revamp the fee schedule for electrical inspections. At present they are based on the number of electrical outlets and fixtures in a building. In the future, they would be based on the square footage of floor space.

Berge said the change would have little effect on the amount of money collected, but would make administration much easier.

Most of the changes in controls are minor and have met little resistance. In a few cases, changes proposed have been withdrawn for more study.

One item required by new state law which has met the most resistance from contractors, Berge said, is the requirement that all exposed wiring be encased in metal sheaths.

Such a restriction has been imposed in the past in commercial buildings, Berge said, but not in residential buildings, where wiring is often exposed between joists in "unfinished" areas such as garages.

Memorial Day Unit To Meet

The newly appointed 1964 planning committee for Marin County Memorial Day observances will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in Marin County Courthouse, San Rafael.

Co-chairmen are Irving Blabon, with Disabled Veterans of Marin County, and Roy Partridge, Veterans of World War I. Both are of San Rafael.

Other officers are George W. Hall, secretary; Maxine Wider, auxiliaries; Edward Lawrence, grounds; William J. Wider, parade marshal; Henry A. Gareis, program; Louis Milani and Jim Sessi, speakers system; George Pacini and Henry Gareis, flowers; Sgt. R. F. Richmond, firing squad, and James D. Burdick, finance.

Adult Class Planned At College Of Marin

University of California Extension evening courses for adults will begin at the College of Marin in February.

The spring program will include courses in current art movements, literary and historical values of the Bible, the role of creative intuition in the arts, interpersonal behavior and psychological theories of personality development.
